Battles Reported Along Suez Canal

Fighting Flares In Mideast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt and Israel battled with tanks and artillery Friday along the Suez Canal and Israeli jets strafed Egyptian artillery positions in the fiercest fight since the Mideast cease-fire of June 10.

The United Nations announced its cease-fire observers will be operating at the canal Sunday in an attempt to stop the fighting that has flared sporadically.

An Israeli communique said Israel's jets hammered Egyptian artillery positions in the area of Suez City at the south end of the 104-mile waterway to stop harassing fire and permit the army to remove the dead and wounded.

Cairo radio said the Israeli planes made four attacks and that Egyptian antiaircraft fire shot down five Israeli jets. An Egyptian military spokesman said two civilians were killed and at least 46 wounded by Israeli strafing and artillery.

Both sides claimed they inflicted punishment as big guns roared all morning and into the afternoon from the canal's east and west banks. Israel claimed three Egyptian tanks were knocked out and reported five Israeli soldiers killed and more than 20 wounded.

Egyptian authorities claimed that in addition to downing five planes, they destroyed eight Israeli tanks, 10 half-track armored vehicles, six trucks, one launch and three other boats and some guns.

Egypt placed its military losses at one tank and four soldiers wounded.

An Egyptian military spokesman said Israel started the fighting "to gain some sort of advantage" before arrival of the U.N. cease-fire observers. The spokesman said Israeli air and artillery attacks on Suez and Ismailia were on "civilian targets in areas where we have no troops."

Egyptians on the west bank and Israelis on the east bank have been probing each other since the cease-fire ended the major fighting in the six-day war. There have been 13 fighting flareups since then, but Friday's was the longest.

Last Saturday, Israeli and Egyptian jets tangled in dogfights over the canal's northern end. Each side has accused the other of violating the cease-fire.

An Egyptian communique said the Israelis tried to float a launch and rubber dinghies near El Qantara, 27 miles from Port Said at the north end of the canal but "our forces were able to destroy them all."

An Israeli army spokesman said an Israeli boat was hit near Suez by Egyptian fire and that answering shots struck one of Egypt's small craft. He said nothing of any Israeli boats coming under fire around El Quantara far to the north of Suez.

The stationing of U.N. cease-fire observers along the canal was announced in Tel Aviv by Lt. Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, the U.N. special representative who has been talking with Israeli and Egyptian leaders.

Bull said a U.N. group would arrive Saturday for reconnaissance and the actual operation will begin Sunday.

At first there will be eight observers on each side of the canal. He said their nationalities will be announced later.

A Cairo communique said the day's fighting began when Israeli artillery ad machine guns opened up at El Qantara. The communique claimed the Egyptian forces silenced "the enemy fire and destroyed one tank,which was seen afire."

"The enemy Friday morning tried to put afloat a launch and rubber dinghies in the Suez Canal near El Qantara," said a second communique. "Our forces were able to destroy them all."

A third communique reported that Israeli artillery opened fire near Ismailia, midway on the canal, causing civilian casualties. Cairo radio said two Egyptian civilians were killed and two wounded. The communique asserted counterfire silenced the Israeli guns.

"Enemy tanks and artillery fired on our positions in the Suez area at 1300—1 p.m.—" said a fourth communique. "Our forces returned the fire, destroying one enemy tank, two armored cars and two boats. During this engagement a fire broke out on Pier No. 7 at Port Taufiq. The fire was extinguished."

An army spokesman in Tel Aviv said a duel of artillery, tank and mortar fire raged all day along most of the Suez Canal.

Shreveport Press Conference

McKeithen Says Firms Fear State Racketeering

SHREVEPORT — Gov. John McKeithen told news media representatives at a press conference here Friday that two major "blue ribbon" industries are delaying plans for locating new plants in Louisiana until racketeering in labor management relations is "cleaned up."

McKeithen's statement apparently was designed to give impetus to his proposed anti-racketeering law named at labor management relations in the state.

The comment came almost on the eve of a special 10-day session in which the legislature is expected to scrutinize the proposed new law.

COMMISSION

The governor's proposal calls for establishment of a five-man commission empowered to investigate allegations of racketeering in labor - management relations. He said the committee would probe into situations in which a grand jury would not have authority to investigate. He said both federal and state law violations could be probed by the commission.

McKeithen was in Shreveport to address the 49th annual state convention of the American Legion and called the press conference following his address.

He devoted most of the press conference to discussion of his proposed anti - racketeering law.

The address to the American Legion delegates, described by one observor as "a belated 4th of July speech," lashed out at draft card burnings, desecration of the flag and protest marches against U. S. involvement in Viet Nam.

The governor called for a return to Americanism and a renewal of patriotism.

The governor said he was notified that AFL-CIO investigators would arrive in Baton Rouge Monday to look into charges of contract violations by local unions.

He said 15,000 workers have been idled and $250,000 million in construction halted by racketeering in labor - management relations in Baton Rouge. He said at present only the city of Baton Rouge is suffering from construction shutdowns resulting from the labor management disputed but that the entire state is getting a "black eye" from the difficulties.

The governor said the state must "cleanse itself" or "we are dead insofar are industrial development is concerned."

But the governor said there is more at stake in the issue than the industrial plum. "There is a moral issue as well," he said.

He said labor - management crises, particularly those in-involving bombing and other violence, have to be cleaned up "if we are to keep on bringing blue ribbon companies like Western Electric and Ford to Shreveport."

The governor said his proposed investigating body would be empowered to subpoena witnesses and conduct full scale investigations of racketeering. "We want the commission to be able to bring those allegations out into the bright sunlight," he said.

He said where grand juries work behind closed doors, the special commission would work openly in public hearings, then make recommendations to state and federal authorities for prosecution where necessary.

The governor told newsman he did not expect any trouble in gaining legislative approval for the commission. "I've even had legislators who are not supporters of the administration call up at night and congratulate me for this proposal," he said.

He said legislators throughout the state have been requested to attend a 10 a.m. briefing Monday in his office prior to the opening of the special session.

He said he expects the full support of the legislature.

McKeithen said he feels the AFL-CIO's investigation into the alleged racketeering in Baton Rouge is significant as far as support for his proposed legislation is concerned.

He said he was notified of the AFL-CIO's planned probe by the national president of the Building and Trades Council. The National Labor Relations Board has accused two unions in Baton Rouge of unfair labor practices in an injunuction suit filed in U. S. District Court in Baton Rouge.

A hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday on the NLRB injunction request.

The governor, in answer to a query more on the grass roots level of North Louisiana, assured newsman of his support for a North-South highway route for the state.

He said he is hopeful that if the route is constructed it will not be necessary to make it a toll road in order to finance construction. The governor says he has reason to believe that federal funds for highway construction may be increased in Louisiana and that the state may yet acquire a slice of the tidelands old oil pie. He said if the money does become available, the highway will be constructed.

He said work to improve existing roadways serving North-South traffic in the state is currently underway.

U.S. Seems Headed For Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Six shopcraft unions prepared Friday for a weekend strike against the nation's railroads despite pleas from Congress and a White House warning a walkout would be disastrous.

"We won't issue a strike call, but I don't think anything's going to keep those men on the job," said a spokesman for the unions that have been blocked from striking for seven months by presidential and congressional action.

Although leaders of the six unions indicated they would not call a general walkout they appeared to be counting on their members to begin leaving their jobs at 12:01 a.m., Sunday.

That is when a month-long no-strike pledge to Congress expires. The unions refused to extend the guarantee when House and Senate conferees failed Thursday to reach agreement on a legislative plan to block the walkouts that could idle 95 per cent of the nation's railroads.

The 137,000 railroad workers represented by the six unions perform the maintenance and repair on the carriers' equipment.

Chief negotiators for the unions met for an hour Friday, but afterward, the prospect of a strike seemed brighter, rather than dimmed.

With growing indications of a strike, the White House which had blocked threatened walkouts four times since the contracts expired more than seven months ago warned of the consequences.

"A strike at this time would have grave consequences and would have ruinous impact on the economy as well as on the U.S. effort in Vietnam and elsewhere in the world," a spokesman for President Johnson said.

A spokesman for the railroads said they believed they would be struck before the weekend was over. "All the signs are there," he said.

The main question that remained unanswered was how and where a strike would begin.

Both the administration and the railroads believe a walkout would begin on a selective basis in an attempt for force the carriers into an action that would make them share the blame when both sides were subsequently brought before congress for anti-strike action.

The railroads are barred by federal law from staging a retaliatory lockout similar to the one put into effect last spring against the teamsters by the nation's trucking companies.

FCC Members Laud Pay TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three members of the Federal Communications Commission recommended Friday that the agency authorize pay television with commercial advertising barred.

If approved by the seven-member commission, the proposal would limit subscription television to large metropolitan areas and permit no more than one station to a community.

Among other significant parts of the proposal:

—Certain limitations would be placed on programming. With certain exceptions old movies would be banned and many programs now shown on free television could not be siphoned off to subscription TV.

—The FCC would regulate charges for the programs.

The commission received the 108-page report at its meeting Wednesday, but made it public only Friday. The commissioners decided to hold hearings on the proposal in early autumn.

The proposal was prepared by the FCC's Subscription Television Committee composed of Commissioners Robert E. Lee, Kenneth A. Cox, and James J. Wadsworth, who was chairman.

The report did not estimate how much it would cost a viewer to watch a subscription TVs program. But based on a five-year experimental pay-TV project in Hartford, Conn., it found that the average family paid $1.22 a week, or slightly less than $65 a year.

The charges would vary with the programs, and customers would be billed monthly. A decoding machine attached to the television set would provide the basis for the billing. Customers would be supplied with program schedules several weeks in advance.

As an example of charges in the Hartford experiment, a heavyweight championship boxing match cost viewers $3.00.

The proposal provides that authorization for Pay-TV stations would be granted only for a station located in the primary coverage area of five or more commercial TV stations.

Attack On Da Nang Base Said Worst Ever; 13 Killed

NEW JERSEY State Police use cars for protection as they battle with sniper Friday on Springfield Avenue in Newark, N. J. Rioting and looting in the central ward of the city and elsewhere have left more than 300 wounded and eleven dead of gunshot wounds. (AP Wirephoto)

SAIGON (AP) — Enemey gunners loosed a barrage of rockets on the big U.S. airbase at Da Nang early Saturday, killing 13 American servicemen and wounding about 150. A U.S. spokesman said the attack was "the worst ever" on the base.

Hitting with deadly accuracy, the 140mm rockets destroyed or damaged about 20 airplanes and inflicted damage on the base's bomb storage area, the airfield and some buildings.

Damage to American aircraft was estimated in the millions of dollars. Six F4C Phantom jets were destroyed and 10 were heavily damaged. Each of the jets costs nearly $2 million.

Of the wounded, about 70 required hospital treatment. U.S. officials said the rest suffered scratches, bruises and similar minor injuries.

The base had been shelled twice before in the last five months. A Communist demolition team also blew up 36 Hawk missiles on a hill near Da Nang with satchel charges May 14.

Two Marine F8 Crusader jets and three big Air Force C130 cargo planes also were destroyed. One of the C130s was a command ship used as an aerial "command post" to direct air strikes over North Vietnam.

Air Force Col. Robert Maloy of Coral Gables, Fla., commander of the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing at Da Nang, said about 15 other planes parked at a corner of the base received minor damage from flying shrapnel.

The rocket attack was believed to have come from two firing positions southwest and northwest of the 1,600-acre airbase.

U.S. officers estimated that about 50 rockets were fired, some of them 120mm and others 140mm, the largest rockets in the enemy arsenal.

About 20 miles south of Da Nang, a Viet Cong force raided the provincial jail at Hoi An late Friday night and set free 1,220 prisoners. About 190 of them were recaptured soon afterwards. Most of the prisoners were being held as Viet Cong suspects but had not been formally classified as prisoners of war.

The jail attack began with the Viet Cong firing 30 rounds of mortar on the prison. About 60 guerrillas then attacked the jail with satchel charges.

A police superintendent was killed and five policemen and 29 Vietnamese civilians were wounded.

Col. Maloy said five fire-fighters were killed when bombs under a blazing jet exploded.

Four Air Force enlisted men's barracks, housing about 80 men each, were wrecked. Two of them took direct rocket hits.

Associated Press correspondent Steve Stibbens reported that three men were killed in the barracks and the rest escaped serious injury.

Stibbens said several rockets struck a big bomb storage dump on the west side of the field and the ensuing explosion sent a large fireball 1,000 feet in the air.

Buildings in a nearby Marine compound were crushed "as if struck by a giant fist," he said.

Death Toll Rises To Eleven In 3rd Night Of Newark Riot

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Trigger-ready curfew patrols under orders to use their weapons, brought a measure of control to this riot-ravaged city early Saturday. But the death toll stood at 11 after a three-day rampage of open Negro rebellion.

Gunfire raked a debris-littered streets for hours before it began to die, and, as police and New Jersey National Guardsmen pressed the battle against snipers, eight persons were killed—all Negroes except for a white policeman.

Three other Negroes were shot to death before dawn Friday. Not all of the victims were identified in the tabulation kept by the medical examiner's office.

The curfew was heralded by a blare of loudspeakers in a night turned garish by police searchlights and the flickering flames of property put to the torch.

Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes said a third of the city was under seige, cordoned off by police and National Guardsmen and in the grip of what he termed "criminal insurrection." He declared it a disaster area, in an attempt to enforce rules to quell the lawlessness.

"This is like two countries fighting," National Guard Sgt. Fred Schlueter told a newsman in the battle area. Police radios crackled with reports of disorderly groups and flashes of gunfire winked in the darkness of a warm, humid summer night.

Police headquarters reported that "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael had entered the city in a motor caravan at about nightfall. His mission was not known.

Street mobs built up in size before sundown after a wild day-long orgy of looting, and police sharpshooters dueled with rooftop snipers. The National Guard equipment included machine guns but there was no report of their use during the early evening.

A Negro carrying a Mississippi draft card bearing the name of Robert Lee Martin was the fourth riot victim, dropping with a shot through the head.

Detective Fred Toto, 39, was fatally wounded by a bullet near the heart, apparently fired from a 20-story building in a Negro housing project. The father of three children, he was cited in 1964 for saving a youngster from drowning.

A huge fire with thick, black smoke erupted in a four-story brick building near the housing project. Sniper fire delayed trucks approaching the area and later as the firemen fought the blaze, a battalion chief said: "Plenty of bullets were firing around their heads."

The cordoned area constituted a band more than 20 blocks wide, extending from the fringe of the downtown business area to the city line at East Orange. It was ringed with National Guardsmen, ready to support police patrols inside when called upon. A state police detective called it "a policy of containment."

In ordering the gun-enforced curfew, Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes called New Jersey's largest metropolis "a city in open rebellion."

Two nights of disorders already had claimed the lives of three Negroes and left more than 350 rioters and police injured. Arrests ran into the hundreds and city magistrates set up a production-line schedule of hearings.

Police details were strengthened in adjacent communities of East Orange, Irvington, South Orange and Maplewood against any spread of the rioting.

An estimated 2,600 National Guardsmen were backed up by helmeted police with riot guns in sealing off the Negro district, even as a ghastly carnival of looting continued in broad daylight through the mile-long section.

"It is like laughing at a funeral—the destruction is unbelievable," said Hughes after a tour of the riot area.

A main street in the Negro neighborhood, Springfield Avenue, was closed to traffic for a distance of 15 blocks. National Guardsmen were stationed in doorways and others with guns patrolled in a half-track, a mobile personnel carrier equipped with defensive armor. Bayonets were affixed to their rifles.

More than 1,000 Newark firemen were in reserve in the event of a new outbreak of firebombing.

Elsewhere, normally busy downtown Newark was eerily quiet, its sidewalks and stores deserted long before dusk.

Mayor Hugh Addonizio enlisted the clergymen, both white and Negro, to go into the ghetto, with police protection. He declared: "My principal interest is the preservation of law and order and restoring it to the streets."

He asked the residents of the city to stay inside and remain calm.

Addonizio said he had no knowledge of who the riot leaders were but that he was willing to meet with them if they would come forward.

Northerly Winds Cool Off Area

The Northeast Louisiana residents Friday experienced cooler temperatures, as northerly winds brought cooler dry air to all the mid south area. No rainfall was reported throughout this area.

High pressure with fairly cool weather should continue through tonight with new record lows possibly being set in some areas this morning.

Barometer readings indicating the pressure at 7 p.m. Thursday registered 29.84. A reading at the same time Friday night after high pressure had moved in revealed that the pressure had climbed to 29.97, a rise of 13 hundredths within 24 hours.

The low tonight is expected to be between 58 and 66. The high today is expected to be between 85 and 88. Winds will be northerly at 5 to 15 m. p. h.

The Louisiana Delta agricultural forecast calls for drying conditions excellent today becoming fair tonight. Dewpoints in the mid 60's are expected.

In the Monroe area Friday, FAA Station at Selman Field recorded a high of 78 and a low of 66.

Treasury Department Changes Silver Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department Friday night abandoned its policy of maintaining the price of silver at $1.29 an ounce, a practice it has followed since 1963.

The action was recommended by the Commission on the Coinage which held its second meeting during the day. The commission now has on hand sufficient quantities of the new clad coins to insure against a shortage should all the older silver content coins disappear from circulation.

Future sales of silver from Treasury stockpiles will be limited to two million ounces a week at the going market price which was $1.68 Thursday in the world market.

Sales will be handled through the General Services Administration.

Coins with 90 per cent silver content which were minted before 1965 are worth their face value if the price of silver reaches $1.38 an ounce.

The new 40 per cent half-dollars bearing the likeness of President John F. Kennedy would not be worth their face value until the price of silver reached $3.38 an ounce.

Silver dollars, which the Treasury has not minted since 1935, are worth their face value in silver at $1.29 an ounce.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said 8.25 billion of the new-clad dimes and quarters had been minted as of Thursday and five billion of them are still in inventories at the mints or Federal Reserve banks.

About 8.5 billion dimes and quarters, both clad and 90 per cent silver content, are in circulation, Wallace said.

The department announced after the first Commission on the Coinage meeting on May 18 a ban on sales of silver to any buyers except legitimate domestic companies which use the metal in their business.

At the same time the department banned the melting, treating and export of silver coins.

A violation of the melting and export ban is subject, upon conviction, to a maximum penalty of $10,000 and five years in jail.

Wallace described this ban as a safety factor in guarding against a loss of coins. But he said sufficient clad coins are available to supply the demand. Another safety factor, he added, is the ability of the mints to produce up to 700 million dimes and quarters a month if necessary. They are now turning out 300 million clad dimes and quarters monthly.

Lurleen Makes Good Progress

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama continues to make satisfactory progress following cancer surgery, her doctors said Friday.

Mrs. Wallace underwent surgery Monday at M.D. Anderson Hospital and tumor institute for removal of a malignant tumor from her lower abdomen. Doctors also removed part of her colon which they said was "involved."

A medical bulletin from the hospital Friday said Mrs. Wallace, 40, spent a restless night Thursday night but experienced no unusual discomfort. It said her blood count and chemistry are within normal limits.

Olinkraft Closes Mill In Modernization Move

Olinkraft, Inc. has now shut down the old pulp mill facilities at its West Monroe pulp and paper mill in a move to complete the final step, as previously planned, in the mill modernization program begun four years ago, the company announced.

This shutdown of outdated facilities results in reducing production and releasing about 115 hourly employes at the mill. The company already has completed arrangements to help secure employment for these workers elsewhere in this general area.

The action ends a 20-month "break-in" period for the new pulp and paper manufacturing facilities which Olinkraft installed in 1963-1965 in a multi-million-dollar modernization and expansion program.

This program was designed to update the 45-year-old paper mill and put it on a "competitive footing with newer, more efficient and technological advanced mills in the intense competitive kraft paper industry," the company said.

It was the original plan when we began the modernization program to phase out and eventually remove the old pulp making facilities some of which have been operating for 45 years," said M. H. Collet, president of Olinkraft.

As is normally the case after completing the installation of new pulp and paper manufacturing equipment and related facilities in late 1965 we needed to subject them to a trial period before phasing out the old equipment. This period has now been completed."

Collet said the shutdown of these inefficient facilities will not permit the company to operate at a higher level of efficiency and produce paper and paperboard products of maximum quality and thus enable us to compete more effectively in our national markets."

We explained the expanded pulp and paper capacity of the modernized paper mill was to be 1,000 tons per day. More or less [illegible] of a strong demand for kraft paper and board products in 1965, 1966, and the first quarter of 1967, the Olinkraft mill has been operating at close to a 1,200 tons per day level during most of the last two years.

"This strong market demand led to a decision to operate the old facilities along with the new for a somewhat longer period than previously planned," he said. "However, a general slackening in the market that began about six months ago has caused a gradual decline in our paper mill output in recent months. Therefore it's seemed to be a logical time to shut down and dispose of the old equipment as originally planned."

Collet noted although general market demand for kraft board and paper is now running modestly ahead of a year ago, new is outpacing the demand, with industry production capacity the construction of new paper mills and expansions of existing mills. This has resulted in a general decline in paper industry "operating rates" — which are the percentages of capacity at which mills operate. "Paperboard mill operating rates are now running about five percentage points below those of a year ago," he said.

M. L. Smith, Olinkraft's director of industrial relations said the company has made the necessary arrangements to attempt to relocate all employees released as a result of the phase-out of the mill facilities in new jobs in north Louisiana.

"We have made a skill inventory of all of the workers and made contact with several manufacturing plants in this area," he reported. "One large Louisiana manufacturer has agreed to consider all of the employees who wish to go to work for that company."

He added that the released employees also will have first preference for retraining for positions at the company's pulp and paper mill in West Monroe.

UN Observers To Begin Suez Duty

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — U.N. cease-fire observers will be sent to the Suez Canal on Saturday and take up their duties on both sides of the waterway Sunday, Gen. Odd Bull of Norway announced Friday.

The idea is to prevent further clashes, such as the serious one during the day that swept along most of the length of the canal.

The representative of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant in the Middle East, Bull said at first there will be eight observers on each side of the canal. A U.N. spokesman said this later probably will be increased to 30 all told.

While so few observers can hardly police the 107-mile-long canal, it is expected that they can get to areas of trouble quickly in the event Egypt on the west bank and Israel on the east bank begin shooting.

Bull told a news conference that in the event of a breach of the cease-fire imposed at the end of the six-day Israeli-Arab war June 10, U.N. teams will "observe and report and that would be transmitted quickly to the secretary-general."

Bull said the first observers would carry out reconnaissance Saturday and begin their duties next day. Israel will furnish the observers with a map of Israeli positions.

Bull met Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan after returning from talks with Egyptian officials in Cairo.

Dayan told the news conference he was "a little disappointed" with Bull's mission to Cairo because the Egyptians will not allow teams along the canal to communicate with each other. He said there also was no clear reference to a cease-fire line.

New School Set To Open As Primer

The Primer School, a unique program for children who have completed kindergarten but are not yet ready to enter the first grade, will open in September under the sponsorship of the Junior Charity League.

The school will be conducted in the downtown educational facilities of the First Christian Church from 8:30 a.m. until noon, according to committee members for the program.

Mrs. Ewell Camp Sr. will teach the class which will be limited to 20 children. She received her B.S. degree from Northwestern State College and Northeast Louisiana State College. Her M.S. degree is from [illegible] State University. Mrs. Camp was formerly associated with the Ouachita Parish School system and the First Presbyterian Church Kindergarten.

Violence Again Erupts In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Roving bands of Red Chinese sympathizers burned buses, bombed a police car, fought with police and staged sporadic demonstrations in Hong Kong Friday night as renewed antigovernment terrorism erupted after 12 hours of relative quiet.

Small, well-organized bands of terrorists dealt their damaging blows and scurried through side streets, followed by police riot squads and crowds of curious spectators in a helter-skelter pattern.

It was the second night that Hong Kong authorities had not imposed a curfew on the colony, however, after violent errorist attacks broke out Sunday and Monday and reached a climax Wednesday night.

Just before dusk Friday fire swept through a six-story plastic factory and burned out of control. It was in the same area where pro-Communist plastic workers triggered the May 11 riot that started Hong Kong's summer of violence.

Anti-Riot Bill Advanced

When any group of people proposes and perpetrates violent acts against constituted government, its leaders and members clearly are engaged in insurrection. This makes any act committed by them on an inter-state basis a federal crime. Why the national administration fails to recognize and quell violence of an open and admitted seditious nature is a mystery.

This is one of the reasons the unanimous approval of an anti-riot bill by the House Rules Committee and speeding of the bill to the House floor is of extraordinary interest to the people of this country.

Representative William C. Cramer, R., Fla., author of the anti-riot bill, called Stokely Carmichael, Trinidad - born head of the Student Non - Violent Coordinating Committee, who has made "black power" the SNCC slogan and is advocating "black panther" politics, "a free-lance insurrectionist."

The term "free - lance insurrectionist" might well be applied with equal truth to Floyd B. McKissick, head of the Congress of Racial Equality, commonly known as CORE, who has endorsed "black power" and refused to rule out violence.

If Martin Luther King, head of the so-called Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is any better than these two, it must be only by a shade, as he has not condemned the "black power" movement and has acted openly to arouse his Negro followers to frenzied violence.

Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslims, a so-called religious sect, preaches that white men are "a race of devils." He spurns integration and calls for creation of a black state inside the United States.

Of the six largest Negro so-called civil rights groups, only two, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, headed by Executive Director Roy Wilkins, and the National Urban League, led by Whitney M. Young Jr., have abstained from attacking white people as a race. King still seeks to maintain a status of respectability among white people but advocacy of and leadership in violence has been too great and extended to merit any such responsibility.

Unanimous clearing of the anti-riot bill by a voice vote in the House Rules Committee gave it a good start but some of its foes expressed doubt as to its constitutionality (they might as well question the constitutionality of the law against murder) and there was a noticeable lack of administration support.

The Johnson administration's absolute refusal to take any steps whatever toward crubing Negro riotings, killings and other unlawful outrages has been an extremely unsavory spot in the regime and has given Republicans hope that the people will rise up against condoned outlawry, whether committed by Negroes or whites. G.O.P. candidates are counting on the nation's respect for law and order to give them victories in the 1968 elections.

Representative Emanuel Celler, D., N. Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, questioned whether the measure would be of any use in stopping the riots now flaring up in many cities.

"The 50 states all have laws against riots," Celler said, "and not a single state or local officer has asked for this law or for federal intervention in this area. Wherever riots have taken place, local police have quelled them."

It might well be pointed out that in many instances there have been killings, burnings and various other kinds of destruction before the rioting was stopped. This is hardly a recommendation for trying to use state authority to stop a rioting "disease" that is undisputedly national in scope.

One of the latest disgraces of the type the proposed new legislation is intended to curb occurred in Newark, N.J., when Negro rioting exploded into looting and gunfire. Eleven persons were fatally wounded, more than 300 were injured and more than 700 arrested.

New Jersey State Police and National Guardsmen moved into the city to reinforce Newark's 1,400-man police force. All were summoned to duty as local violence burst into pockets of fighting and shooting throughout the city.

Carmichael and others of his type move into cities, foment agitation and arouse the Negroes to fever pitch and leave with the expectation that the excited Negroes will tear up the town.

In answer to Celler's contention that some provisions of the bill are vague and imprecise, Representative Richard H. Poff, R., Va., said the language of the bill was carefully chosen to meet specific objections raised by the Department of Justice, and, in many cases, followed the department's recommendations.

"I have no fear of any constitutional frailties," he said.

Poff said the chief value of the bill would be as a deterrent to future riots.

"We are not so much interested in punishing some one for an offense already committed as in preventing it from occurring," he said.

But Cramer and Representative James H. Quillen, R., Tenn., a Rules Committee member, made it clear that at least as far as Carmichael is concerned, they want action against him.

"I'm getting sick and tired of the Carmichael's going around this country to incite riots," Quillen said. "Wherever they go, in their wake lies millions of dollars in destruction of property. Congress should take bold steps in enacting this legislation."

State authorities would have stopped the riots long ago except for the quiescent sanction of the national administration. Now that this sanction has allowed violent Negro leaders to change the integration issue into a national "disease" labelled "black power," enactment of a national anti-riot law to quell "free - lance insurrectionists" seems advisable.

Big Man, Little Blanket

Every once in a while you will run across a fellow with some such name as John "Big Man" Smith. He may not be any bigger than most other men, or maybe not as big, and the chances are he was the real originator of that "Big Man" appendage to his name. He wanted to make himself seem a little bigger or more powerful in some way and thought calling himself "Big Man" might help.

Sometimes we wonder if the same sort of unsatisfied ego may be the reason the United States budget is so much more out-sized than it should be. President Johnson went into office with a strong desire, acknowledged by friends and complained of by enemies, to make himself the biggest President in history. "What better way," he might ask, "than to spend more money than any other President has done?"

The big man in Washington these days is the inflated budget. It has reached gargantuan size, "and the end is not in sight."

Calling the national budget a big man and the lack of sufficient money to cover it a little blanket, Representative Tom Curtis, R., Mo., in sizing up the governments budget problems, said:

"We're running out of cloth. It's like a big man trying to get under a little blanket. You pull the covers one way and it uncovers something else."

All at once, it seems, the big man and his little blanket in Washington have become obviously embarrassed and Capitol Hill has been frantically debating whether the man (federal spending) should be shortened or the blanket (government income) should be lengthened by raising taxes.

Polls have shown the taxpayers are far more in favor of chopping down big spending (the ego man).

Paying Victim's Widow Issue

Cost High In Reimbursing Crime Victims

ARTHUR COLLINS was a $6,000 - a - year computer programmer who in October, 1965, attempted to eject a disorderly person from a New York subway and was stabbed to death in front of his wife and infant daughter.

Collins' death resulted immediately in better policing of the subways but also raised a question which Congress and many State legislatures are trying to answer: Should his widow be compensated out of public funds?

In Collins' case, it can be argued that he was performing a public service that should have been done by police. Much more complicated are the implications of reimbursing all victims of violent crime.

Great Britain and New Zealand have inaugurated programs to pay stipulated amounts to people who suffer bodily injury or other loss from criminal acts. California and New York more recently have enacted reimbursement systems, but they are too new to justify solid conclusions.

THE LEADING Congressional exponent of victim compensation is Senator Ralph Yarborough, Democrat, Texas, who introduced a bill in 1965 for this purpose. He pointed out that a man injured while careless on the job can receive thousands of dollars in workman's compensation, "while the same wage earner if disabled from criminal attack for which he bore no responsibility whatsoever must face a future with no compensation at all."

Yarborough's approach would establish a three - member Federal Commission, empowered to award up to $25,000 to a victim (if he is truly innocent) or to his survivors.

The Commission could operate, however, only in the strictly limited area where the Federal Government has jurisdiction over crimes of violence. This would primarily mean the District of Columbia, extending also to certain Federal installations, the territories and to ships or airplanes beyond the three - miles limit. Yarborough hopes that a successful Federal program would encourage States to set up duplicate systems.

THE TEXAN HAS not been able to induce the Senate Judiciary Committee to hold hearings on the proposal. The corresponding House Committee conducted three days of hearings this spring on counterpart bills but has taken no action.

The President's Crime Commission was sufficiently interested in the issue to invite Dr. Gilbert Geis, a sociologist at California State College in Los Angeles, to submit a study of the existing programs.

Without forming conclusions, Geis notes that the idea of victim compensation has not been subjected to very searching debates and that what arguments exist suffer from a shortage of facts.

Nobody has more than conjecture, for example, whether a criminal would be encouraged toward assault to steal a woman's purse if he knew the victim would be paid for her injuries. It is possible that citizens would be less careful in protecting themselves against attack if the prospect of a monthly check were in their minds.

ON THE OTHER hand, the responsibility of the State to the victims might stimulate new efforts to correct the causes of crime, to increase law enforcement and to search for more effective means of criminal rehabilitation.

A central question is where the indemnities paid to the victims should be considered charity or something rightfully owed regardless of the victim's financial resources, Great Britain and New Zealand rejected any suggestion the payments should be tainted with "the stigma of the Old Poor Law."

California, however, operates its system as part of the State Welfare services. Payments go down as the bankroll of the victim (or survivors) goes up, so that someone owning property worth $15,500 or more receives nothing. Neither would a family of four with a monthly income of more than $239.

According to Geis, the California program seems to cover only the cases of indigent victims who, because of residence requirements or other reasons, are disqualified from other welfare assistance.

The New York system, operated through a special board, permits greater flexibility but still denies compensation to victims who suffer no serious financial hardship.

As to Mrs. Collins, the City of New York awarded her $4,200 a year for life under a special good samaritan act on grounds that her husband was attempting to prevent the commission of a crime.

RALPH de TOLEDANO

Congress Disturbed By Executive Branch

THE GAP BETWEEN the will of Congress and the arrogance of the Federal Establishment is a wide one. Repeatedly, the House and Senate have legislated in the national interest only to see their efforts thwarted by an Executive Branch which has come to be a law unto itself.

Recently, Congress passed a law to prevent the various agencies of the Federal bureaucracy from hiding any misfeasance malfeasance, and nonfeasance behind a cloak of secrecy. According to this law, the records of these agencies are to be made freely available to press and public unless they disclose information detrimental to the national security. The agencies, however, have interpreted this in ways that run counter to the intent of the national legislature —hoping that the Federal courts will allow them to continue to play their cat-and-mouse game with the principles of responsible representative government.

The three most flagrant offenders are the Pentagon, the State Department, and the Atomic Energy Commission. Something may possibly be said for the attitude of the State and Defense Departments. But the Atomic Energy Commission has so widely abused its prerogatives that only an aroused public and press can bring it back into the realm of orderly government.

IN ITS GUIDELINES to AEC officials, the custodian of the most lethal artifacts in the history of mankind has listed a series of topics which are to be marked verboten when the right - to - know is invoked. Among the areas proscribed by the AEC, in its refusal to abide by legally enacted statute, is the one involving the deaths and accidents which have resulted from the capricious use of nuclear products.

Among the records "exempt from disclosure"—to quote the AEC's bureaucrats—are "files containing the names of individuals who have received exposure to radiation." How this information would benefit America's enemies is never explained. But to the knowledgeable Washington reporter the answer is not hard to find. The AEC does not want the nation to know just how many persons have given up their lives in ill-conceived projects to "Nuclearize" these United States.

PARTICULARLY they would like to hamstring the efforts of dedicated reporters like Malcolm Kildale and his Press News Service, or of the AFL-CIO's Leo Goodman, which have been painstakingly exposing the facts on radioactive waste to Washington and the nation. If possible, the AEC would like to suppress the tragic stories of men like Robert Peabody, a victim to the haphazard methods sanctioned by the AEC.

Robert Peabody, working for a Charlestown, Rhode Island, nuclear plant on atomic waste, was heavily splashed with a massive shower of neutrons and gamma radiation. The plant, negligently, had no facilities to meet this forseeable medical emergency. Finally, an ambulance arrived. He, and a fellow worker whose compassion led him to go along, were rushed to the nearest hospital. The doctors there, aware of the radioactive death - lode that Mr. Peabody carried, refused to admit him.

HIS LIFE burning away, Robert Peabody was then driven to Providence where the doctors who treated him exposed themselves to his radio - activity because they had not been properly instructed in decontamination procedures. The ambulance driver and Mr. Peabody's fellow worker were also contaminated by his radioactive body, but the AEC has not seen fit to tell us what their fate has been. Forty-nine hours after the accident, Robert Peabody died in gruesome pain.

Behind the veil of secrecy that the AEC has set up, the ultimate destination of his mortal remains is hidden in the files. Was Robert Peabody a Catholic? Did he receive extreme unction? Could he be buried in consecrated ground where the radioactivity in his flesh, his bones, and his marrow could go into the soil, threatening others? Was he cremated, in violation of the practices of at least two of the major religions?

More important, could his death have been avoided had the Atomic Energy Commission not imposed on nuclear plants its passionate determination to press for results without adequate safeguards? If the AEC has its way— and if the courts do not brush aside its secrecy guidelines—neither the press nor the public will ever know.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.

Starvation In U.S. Termed Impossible

A LONDON journalist recently observed that American newspapers pay surprisingly little attention to the Congress of the United States, and practically no attention at all to what is said there. The reason he gave for this is that the press knows instinctively where are the centers of powers, and these have removed, in the last couple of generations, away from Congress to other places, principally of course the White House, and the bureaucratic ganglia surrounding it, like the Pentagon, HEW, and the rest.

But there is another reason why the debates are poorly covered. It is that Congressional rhetoric is, much of it, terribly trite, and terribly misleading. Consider, for instance, the abuse of the terms "hunger," and "poverty."

It is one thing to acknowledge that poverty endures even as our society becomes more affluent. But the poverty - fighters, many of whom (for instance Michael Harrington and Norman Thomas) are always trying to sneak - punch a victory over the basic principles of capitalism, so exaggerate the problem as to put it perpetually out of focus, and one of the deleterious results of that kind of thing is not only that analysis is blurred, but that the argument becomes terribly boring.

MR. NORMAN THOMAS, on one occasion when I debated with him, said not less than three times that 17 million Americans "were not earning a living wage." After the third repetition of this, I was driven to asking him why, under the circumstances, they weren't dead? That obvious observation had a magical purgative effect on the evening's discussion and, the rhetoric having de-escalated, we proceeded happily into effective argument.

Not long ago Senator Joseph Clark of Pennsylvania was discussing poverty. "I've seen plenty of hungry people right in New York City . . . I think I have an obligation and if I may say so you have an obligation" (the Senator was addressing me) "to see that nobody goes hungry in the United States."

"I haven't seen many hungry people," I answered.

"You haven't been to the places I've been to," said the Senator.

"WELL THEN let's say neither has any Catholic priest or Jewish rabbi or Protestant minister, who are, I think, as concerned as you over people who are starving in New York City, and probably got there before you did with a bowl of soup or coupons or whatever. I'm not being cynical. I'm simply saying you're casting considerable aspersions on New York City. Normally I enjoy aspersions on New York City. But people are not starving in New York City and if you believe they are let me make you go to sleep better tonight by reassuring you that they aren't. . . . I suggest you haven't been down to look at it."

I denied that hunger, let alone starvation, were problems in New York. "If it were true," I said, "that it would raise serious doubts about the efficacy of any welfare program, because so long as I have been alive, governments at every level are against starvation, and I don't know anybody who could starve in New York City if he tried to. Even people on hunger strikes would be fed intravenously."

"LET ME ASSURE you," said Senator Clark, as if to assure me that God was in his heaven and all was right with the world, "that if you would talk to the Commissioner of Welfare of New York City who testified before our subcommittee on poverty a week ago, he will assure you that New York is full of hungry people."

Dutifully, I wrote (a) to the Mayor of New York; and (b) to the Commissioner of Welfare.

"I should appreciate hearing from you," I asked, "whether there are hungry people in New York City, and if so, why." No answer. Which suggests either (a) indifference to the question of hunger — inconceivable; or (b) a canny refusal to contribute to the confusion by saying that there is hunger, where there isn't.

But will Senator Clark abate his rhetoric? One somehow doubts it. There is a perverse kind of pleasure to be taken from doomsaying about America, and this is only one variant of it. But it is a reason why even nice men like Senator Clark can be so boring, so, as the sociologists say, offputting, even to the journalists of the London Times.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Tries To Hold Back Pay Of Servicemen

ROBERT STRANGE McNamara, our anti-military secretary of defense, has hit a new low.

Under a plan which he supported until beaten down at the bitter end, McNamara is reported to have wanted a payless Fourth of July Week end for millions of American servicemen. His below-the-belt blow at our armed forces was a pure and simple piece of political gimmickry.

The plan involved more than half-a-billion of military payroll. It called for holding up the paychecks in such a manner that many servicemen would not receive them until after the July 4 week end. McNamara would thus have been able to shift the entire half-billion dollars from fiscal year 1967 to fiscal year 1968. The fiscal year ended at midnight on June 30.

THE POLITICAL effect of making servicemen wait until July 5 to get their money would have been to let Lyndon Johnson pretend to have a smaller deficit than the huge $11 billion debt he piled up during fiscal 1967.

This attempt to wring political advantage out of the hides of our servicemen came to public attention only when Budget Director Charles L. Schultze let it be known that he would risk making it a national issue if McNamara insisted on going through with his slap at the very man he is supposed to support. McNamara finally backed down —but not, apparently, out of any regard for his duty or the servicemen, but only because the political outcry would outweight the advantage he had hoped to gain by the payroll shuffling.

EVEN THOUGH McNamara was beaten down here, he apparently succeeded in juggling another part of his budget to gain political advantage by a mirror-trick in which the huge Johnson deficit will appear to be smaller.

This McNamara juggling trick involves payments to the companies who supply material for the Department of Defense. Suppliers who were due to receive payments in June are being paid in July.

It is said that this idea originated in the White House. Lyndon Johnson reportedly passed the word to postpone all payments that could be into the new fiscal year.

TO BE FAIR, other Presidents have tried this delayed payment plan to make their budgets conform to their promises. It is hard to believe, however, that any went so far as McNamara's to hit the pocketbooks, and the holidays, of servicemen in a time of war.

In McNamara's case, the action was typical of the bottomless disdain in which he holds fighting men. His hostility toward professional military men is a major morale factor in the armed services today. His hostility toward American arms supremacy is a psychological factor in international negotiations.

His proposals for the one-sided disarmament of this nation will be a major factor in all future conflicts launched by the Communists.

In all of this, however, trying to pull a holiday con-game on men at war strikes a new low purely in terms of decent personal conduct.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, July 15th, the 196th day of 1967 with 169 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

Born on this day in 1608 was the Dutch painter, Rembrandt.

On this day in history:

In 1912, the U.S. won the Olympic Games, led by Jim Thorpe.

In 1942, Americans in Eastern cities were faced with the first serious meat shortage of World War II.

In 1945, Italy declared war on its former Axis partner, Japan.

In 1964, Sen. Barry Goldwater was nominated for the Republican presidential candidacy with William Miller as his running mate.

A thought for the day: Roman playwright Terence once said: "The quarrels of lovers are the renewal of love."

Does the police department have the authority allowing them to keep a check in their file on a theft by check count after the fine has been paid or the check made good?

We are told that they not only have the authority, but in nearly all instances do keep the check, the original and not a copy. The check is considered evidence and is kept in the files. In some instances the checks are kept with the bill of information or with the court records.

Louisiana has a law whereby at a certain age a person gets a permanent fishing permit. Arkansas has the same law. I want to know the age and will the two states acknowledge the other's license or permit?

That age is 60. No the two states do not have a reciprocal agreement acknowledging the other's permit. The permits read specifically for residents of the particular state.

Has any school official, or state employe been placed in jail for violating court orders in matters concerning segregation of schools, as far as you know?

To our knowledge, none.

Is it true that the United States is building 16 complete cities in South Vietnam at costs to the taxpayers. Why must the U. S. taxpayers underwrite this expense?

You are probably referring to the relocation of towns and hamlets near or adjacent to military bases and in other areas considered vital to the armed forces. These villages are being rebuilt, but not on the scale which we in the states know. These villages are mostly huts, some with tin roofs and bamboo walls. Many are made of bamboo and other native materials. Purpose of the construction of "cities" is to put the population of South Vietnam out of the reach and control of Viet Cong, who infiltrate the areas.

I have heard about the Tombstone Cemetery and the Tombstone Territory and other similar places. Is there really such a place, or is it part of the fiction of the Old West?

No doubt many of the legends about the Tombstone Territory are fiction, growing out of smaller incidents of the area. But Tombstone, Ariz., is actually a place. It is located some 70 miles southeast of Tucson, Ariz., in the midst of the Arizona desert. Today it serves as a health and winter resort, but in the late 1800's it was the scene of the famous battle of the O K Corral between Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday who "shot it out" with the Clanton crowd. In fact, each October the battle is restaged during the Helldorado Days celebration. In 1882 the population of the town was about 10,000; today it is around 1,300. Boothill Cemetery is located just outside of Tombstone. The town got its name, reportedly, when in 1877, a prospector was told he would only find his tombstone if he continued to roam around in the Apache territory. He discovered silver ore and called it "the Tombstone." People rushing to the area and town accepted the name.

Does the City of Monroe have regular collection schedules for garbage and trash? I have heard the pickups are supposed to be twice a week throughout town?

A. G. Barker, head of the department of sanitation, says the department strives for a twice - a-week schedule for garbage, but cannot guarantee this schedule due to the five-day week. He explained that the first of the week pickup is always heavy due to the weekend, and the second pick up is light. Generally speaking, Barker added the first pickup is on a Monday or early Tuesday and the second begins Wednesday. The superintendent said the city has backyard pickup which further delays the schedule and only with frontyard, or streetside, pickup could the twice-a-week schedule be strictly maintained. However, with the exception of a holiday or severe inclement weather during the week, the department strives to adhere to a twice- - a - week schedule for garbage. As for the trash pickup, trucks are on duty throughout the day, picking up trash where it is spotted, or when a person calls in to the department to report. He added the amount of trash picked up lately is "well above the amount we normally handle. We cannot keep up with it."

Where can I get information on the "Lost Continent of Atlantis" and on Plato? I have already tried several encyclopedias.

On the "Lost Continent of Atlantis" two books are available in local libraries. These are "Lost Continent: The Atlantis Theme in History, Science and Literature" by DeCamp and "Atlantis; the Antediluviant World" by Donnelly. On Plato the works can be found in the 800 series of the Northeast Louisiana State College library. In the Collective Biographies section of the college library is a book by Van Loone.

The Free Chinese Island of Formosa has been described as the "bright spot" of the Orient. What do they mean?

You are probably referring to the reference to Formosa, or Taiwan as the Chinese call it, being the "Bright spot" because of the economic and social improvement since World War II. It is still considered the most advanced nation in the Orient, even including Japan, as far as economic improvement is concerned.

Are the utility rates of municipalities, such as West Monroe, the Monroe Utilities Commission and City of Ruston, subject to review by the Louisiana Public Service Commission?

Rates of any municipality which owns its own utilities system are not subject to review by the Louisiana Public Service Commission. All others are.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Steels Take Center Stage On Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) —Steels took center stage in the stock market Friday and the summer rally continued as cigarette stocks retired to the wings. Trading was active.

Striking a somewhat old-fashioned note in a market which has become obsessed with ultra modern issues representing computers, copying machines, electronics and other "science" fields, the steels advanced solidly, making substantial gains.

Meanwhile, the cigarette issues—very strong early in the week amid incomplete reports about a new filter Columbia University was unveiling—stumbled to sharp losses.

Strength in various other sections of the list was such that the market was ahead all day, and roughly to the same degree.

The advance remained intact despite the threat of a strike against the major copper producers, prospects of hard bargaining in the auto labor situation and late news that the nation's industrial production in une fell to its lowest level in 14 months.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.52 to 382.05.

Of 1,467 issues traded, 747 rose and 481 fell. New highs for the year totaled 132 and new lows 11.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.1 to 330.8 with industrials up 2.6, rails up .1 to a new high for the year and utilities unchanged.

The steels made their big advance because of wide publication of the fact that Vickers "Favorite 50," an analysis of investment company portfolios, showed that investment companies had acquired a substantial position in the stocks of major steelmakers.

Bethlehem was second most active stock, up 1⅞ at 34⅛, while U.S. Steel was 11th most active, up 23 at 48¼. Less active, Republic Steel rose 1⅝ and Jones & Laughlin 2⅜.

Reynolds Tobacco, the most active issue of the two previous sessions, sank to third place among the volume leaders and took a loss of 2 at 42.

Lorraillard dropped 1⅜, American Tobacco 1½ and Philip Morris 2¼ while Liggett & Myers—which hardly shared in the recent rally in the group—edged up ¼.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange was 10.89 million shares.

As the week ended, the New York Stock Exchange said trading for the week was the highest in history—about 57.4 million shares compared with the previous record of 56.7 million in the week ended last March 10.

Atlas Corp. was the most active issue, up ⅜ at 4⅝ on 227,300 shares.

Eleven of the most active stocks rose and four fell. American Telephone, off ⅛ at 52⅛, was one of the losers.

Among active gainers, UMC Industries rose 3, Stokely Van Camp 5¼ and Lone Star Gas 1¼.

General Electric, 16th most active, spurted 6¾ to 97¼ on news that its second quarter earnings were a record.

Xerox rose 3, U.S. Smelting 2, General Foods 1, International Telephone 1, Anaconda ⅝ and Kennecott ⅜.

Goodyear, now involved in a strike, lost ½.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .32 to 92.74.

The New York Stock Exchange index rose 19 cents to $51.60.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 5.56 million shares. The Exchange's index rose 11 cents to $20.89.

Great Basins Petrolem was active and up ⅝ at 3⅞. Valley Metallurgical rose 5, Atlantic Research 3 and AMK Corp. 3⅞.

Corporate bonds were unchanged to higher. U.S. Treasury bonds were mixed.

Tech To Give Scholarships

RUSTON (Special) — Applications for two new scholarships of $300 each per year and which will become effective the fall quarter beginning Sept. 6, are now being received at Louisiana Tech here.

One of the grants is available to an incoming student in the School of Engineering and the other in the School of Arts and Sciences.

The engineering award is given in the name of Lincoln Builders of Ruston, Inc., and the arts award is being donated by Graham's Furniture Co., Inc., also of Ruston.

Selection of the recipients and the administering of the scholarships will be in the charge of J. C. Seaman Jr., director of the division of School and College Services at the college.

But Vincenzo came in with a 67 also and took a two - stroke advantage over the South African. (AP Wirephoto)

de Vicenzo Shoots 67 For British Lead

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Roberto de Vicenzo, a balding, 44-year-old Argentinian making his 10th bid for the title over the past 20 years, shot two strokes ahead of South Africa's Gary Player and three ahead of defending champion Jack Nicklaus Friday in the record-breaking third round of the British Open Golf Championship.

De Vicenzo had only 31 putts in his five-under-par 67 over Hoylake's rain-dampened links for 70-71-67—208, eight under par.

Player, who has won all golf's major crowns, came back into contention with a record-equalling 67 for 72-71-67—210. The 67s were a record for the gough, par 72 old layout.

Nicklaus of Columbus Ohio, also the reigning U.S. Open champion, slipped in the race as his putts failed to drop and he wound up with 71-69-71—211.

"Three shots can be overcome on the final round," Nicklaus said. "I've not had what I regard as a big round yet. Maybe it will come Saturday. Conditions were a piece of cake today and anybody who did not score well had only themselves to blame. So I guess its my fault I'm three shots off."

The final round will be televised live in the United States via the Early Bird Satellite by ABC between 10:30 a.m. and noon EDT Saturday.

Bruce Devlin of Australia and Clive Clark, 22-year-old Englishman, were bracketed at 212. Kel Nagle of Australia and Lionel Platts of England were at 213.

Three players in the field of 58 had 214—Al Balding of Canada, Jimmy Hume of Scotland, and Sebastian Miguel of Spain.

Deane Beman, former U.S. and British amateur champion who turned pro shortly before this year's Walker Cup, pulled his game together with afour-under-par 68, using only 24 putts.

Beman now is level par with 72-76-68—216—eight shots behind pace setting Roberto.

Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., qd 71-73-73—217; Bert Yancey of Philadelphia, 75-73-71—219, and Phil Rodgers of San Diego, Calif., 74-73-77—224.

The 6,995-yard, par 7 2 Hoylake layout was saturated by one of the worst thunderstorms this part of the world has ever experienced. It all happened in the early hours. Gallons and gallons of rain saturated the course. Even the fifth green was hit by lightning.

But, as if by a miracle, the sun came out again Friday and the course was in perfect shape for play.

"It reminded me of perfect American playing conditions," Player commented. "And you don't have a chance to say that very often over here."

A crowd of about 12,000 watched the play — and all seemed to be watching the leaders as they came to the last green.

De Vicenzo had seven birdies in his round and said: "The turning point for me was when the 13-footer went in at the seventh. Then I thought: "Today maybe I make a score. And so I did.'

The Argentinian, a darling of the British crowds, said, "some day some Argentinian must win."

De Vicenzo was tied for the lead in the British Open at the end of the third round in 1950 and 1953. He finished second once and third four times. He's always been a strong challenger without taking home the crown.

Nicklaus said the only putt that went down for him was an 11-footer at the 11th. He had birdies at the third and the 16th —and a bogey at the 16th.

Instead he shanked his iron, wedged to the edge of the green and then chipped to 10 feet and missed the putt.

White Sox Take Nightcap For Split With Angels, 3-2, 8-0

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox went on a rare hitting spree behind Joe Horlen's six-hit pitching and breezed to an 8-0 victory over California Friday night for a split of their doubleheader with the Angels.

The Angels won the opener 3-2 on a run-scoring single by pinch hitter Jimmie Hall in the

The White Sox jumped on California starter Clyde Wright for two runs in the first inning of the nightcap and wrapped up Horlen's 11th victory in 13 decisions with a five-run burst in the second.

Pete Ward singled one run across in the first and slammed a controversial two-run homer to cap the second inning explosion. J. C. Martin's bases-empty homer in the eighth completed the Sox' 12-hit attack.

Recreation Softball

The Optimist Club edged the Jaycees, 6 - 5 in an Industrial League game Friday in Recreation Softball.

Spatafora had three hits for the winners, while Moore and Richards had three hits apiece for the Jaycees. Carter was the winner and Fishman, the loser.

Another Industrial game had the Fire Fighters smothering the YMCA, 12 - 1. Alger and Gordy homered and Douglas and Lockwood went two for three for the winners.

Smith got the win and Rackleffe got the loss.

Fred Windham and Bob Grove hit two home runs apiece in leading Burger Chef to a 5 - 2 win over Larry's Gulf in a City A game.

Vernon brooke was two for three for the winners. Latham and Lofton had the only hits for the losers. Campbell was the winner and Wyatt, the loser.

The News-Star won a forfeit from Morgan & Lindsey in an Industrial contest.

Lakeshore Baptist won a forfeit from Ridge Avenue Baptist in Church A competition.

First Baptist nosed out Fair Park Baptist, 12 - 11 as Bob Hitt and Roy Duffey had four hits for First Baptist and Jordan homered for Fair Park.

Hitt was the winner while Peterson suffered the loss.

First Assembly of God got a forfeit from Temple Baptist in Church B play.

Highland Baptist humbled the Hustlers, 6 - 4 as King knocked in three runs for Highland with a homer and a triple.

Sims got credit for the win while Freeman was tagged with the loss.

Futch Roofing won by forfeit from Pico Finance in a City B League tilt.

Jack's Cookies scored an 8-3 decision from Central Bank in a City B game. Harrell had three hits and Oliver and Lovett two to pace the winners. Lovett and Johnson formed the winning battery; Chapman and Finley took the loss.

INJURY COULD FORCE HORNUNG FROM PLAY

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Damage to his spinal cord may keep Paul Hornung, the Golden Boy halfback of pro football, from playing football again, The Times-Picayune said Friday.

Hornung, obtained by the New Orleans Saints in the expansion draft held when the team entered the National Football League, will enter Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation in LaJolla, Calif., Monday.

"He's going to get checked over one more time," the newspaper's copyright story quoted a Saints source as saying.

"There is a good chance, a very strong one, that he'll not be able to play again."

"Damage to the spinal cord was first detected at Mayo Clinic," the unnamed Saints source said. "It was indicated there that a blow like one received on the football field could paralyze him for life."

Hornung was quoted as having said that if the tests were true, there would be no alternative for him but to quit football. He returned to the Saints camp in San Diego, Calif., Thursday after three days of medical tests at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Saints president John W. Mecom Jr. declined to discuss the matter. "I just can't make any formal statement until the results are completely in," he said.

Hornung was injured last season and played in only nine games. It was described as a pinched nerve in his neck and affected his left arm.

However, reports of his progress were favorable so the Saints picked him in their draft.

The sourced quoted by The Times-Picayune said Hornung could lead a nearly normal life outside of football, despite the injury.

Cepeda Leads Cards By Pittsburgh, 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pinch hitter Orlando Cepeda singled in one run in the seventh inning and another scored on Jose Pagan's throwing error, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh Friday night.

Ed Spiezio singled with one out in the seventh and moved up on a walk to Julian Javier. Cepeda, the National League's leading hitter, then stroked a ground single to left.

Pinch hitter Dave Ricketts fouled out to left fielder Pagan, but Javier scored under Pagan's high throw to the plate.

Left-hander Larry Jaster, lifted for a hitter in the seventh, received credit for his sixth victory against four losses. Tommie Sisk, who had a one-hitter going into the Cards' seventh, suffered his seventh setback in 14 decisions.

The Pirates had taken a 1-0 lead against Jaster in the top of the seventh. Gene Alley singled with two out and scored when left fielder Lou Brock let Pagan's single get through him for an error.

Twins Suffer 3-2 Setback

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — John Donaldson drove in two runs with a pair of singles and rookie reliever Tony Pierce snuffed out a bases-loaded threat in the sixth inning, leading the Kansas City Athletics to a 3-2 victory over Minnesota Friday night.

The loss snapped a three-game winning string for the Twins and ended Kansas City's losing skein at six games.

Pierce relieved winner Chuck Dobson 5-6, after the Twins loaded the bases with two out in the sixth on Russ Nixon's infield single, a walk and a hit batsman. Pierce struck out Rod Carew to end the threat and preserved the victory although touched for run in the eighth.

Highland Tourney Opens Action Today

The 11th annual Highland Park Four - Ball Golf Tournament, which boast its largest field ever, is scheduled to get underway this morning at the Highland Park Country Club in West Monroe.

Wayne and Terry Peddy, of Ruston, will be on hand to defend their title they won last year but the Peddy's could get tough competition from Bill Wright and Bobby Wyche.

Wright and Wyche, of the Palmetto Country Club in Benton took medalist honors with a low ball of 66.

The field of six flights, plus the championship, will play three 18 hole matches, one match Saturday and two Sunday.

All players must be ready by their tee times," said Hugh Britt, Highland Professional. "If your partner or team is not ready on time, the opposing team or player will tee off alone." In case a whole team is not present, the opposition will tee off with the late comers joining them on the course when they can. If this happens, and a team joins its on, say number four, the late players will be four holes down.

Britt asked that all winners collect their prizes on or before July 31.

Carty's Blast Lifts Braves Over Phillies

ATLANTA (AP) — Rico Carty slammed a three-run homer in the first inning Friday night, igniting Atlanta to a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia, whose comeback bid was checked by Hank Aaron's 23rd home run of the season.

Carty's 11th blast of the year came after Mack Jones walked and Aaron doubled.

Aaron padded the Braves' lead in the sixth with his leadoff homer.

Englehorn, Creed Rally To Gain Tie With Whitworth For Ladies' Lead

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Bursitis-plagued Shirley Englehorn, playing with a pain numbed shoulder, and Clifford Ann Creed burst out of the pack and tied Kathy Whitworth for the lead Friday at the halfway point of the 13th Ladies PGA Championship.

The trio had matching three-under-par 143s over the wind-swept, 6,250-yard, par 73 Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

Despite what she described as "the wierdest round I've ever played," Mickey Wright offset putting woes with a great irons game to shoot par for the second round of the 72-hole event. She stood just one stroke off the pace with a 71-73—144.

Miss Whitworth, first round leader with a four-under 69, helped jumble the competition when Mary Lou Daniel withdrew in the field left with 50 players in the field due to an injury. Kathy ran into back nine troubles when she three putted the 10th for one bogey and chipped too strong on No. 16 for another.

Miss Englehorn, twice winner of the Lady Carling on this same course, staged a rush from two over par to move into a share of the lead on what she termed exceptionally fine putting. She had a 35-33—68, including an eagle on the first hole, thanks to a 15-foot putt and five birdies.

Shirley credited Dr. Paul Shannon, orthopedic man who tends Holy Cross College athletes, with "making it possible for me to play today" with a cortisone injection. She pointed to her left shoulder and said it often flares up when the humidity is high.

Miss Englehorn's irons were flashing peak form despite her ailment, and afterward she admitted it was her best round since the Babe Zaharias tournament last year.

Dimunitive Clifford Ann, even after Thursday's first tour of the course, plunged into contention with her putter. She fashioned four straight birdies on the fifth through eighth holes on putts ranging from 10 to 20 feet. She had five birds and two bogeys in all.

Nolan Picks Up Win As Reds Defeat Mets In 10

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Perez' bases-loaded single in the 10th inning gave the Cincinnati Reds and rookie right-hander Gary Nolan a 1-0 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Nolan hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory against two setbacks in winning a brilliant duel against the Mets' Jack Fisher.

Fisher, 6-10, got the first two men he faced in the 10th, then walked Floyd Robinson. Vada Pinson lined a single to center, sending Robinson to third, and Pete Rose drew an intentional walk, filling the bases, before Perez delivered the winning hit to center.

Nolan pitched out of a tough jam in the seventh after Ed Charles' single, a walk and Jerry Buchek's third straight single filled the bases with nobody out.

Jerry Grote then struck out and Charles was picked off third by catcher Jim Coker before Fisher flied out, ending the threat.

The Reds blew a scoring opportunity in the fifth when Deron Johnson led off with a walk and went to third on Lee May's double. But Fisher stranded the runners by getting the next three hitters on infield taps.

The tournament for 12-13 year old boys will be double elimination, with the winner going to the state tournament in Ferriday.

American Squad Strong Despite Absence Of Ryun

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Despite a half-dozen illustrious absentees, including peerless miler Jim Ryun, a still formidable American squad jockeys for Pan American track and field berths Saturday and Sunday.

The world's best or near best in the shot put, pole vault, long jump, and high hurdles are among almost 100 male athletes competing for a trip to the fifth Pan-Am Games at Winnipeg July 23-Aug. 6.

Additionally, some 45 of Uncle Sam's top feminine tracksters will cavort in the two-day trials at the University of Minnesota's Memorial Stadium.

United States Olympic Committee officials were upset over absence of Ryun, ranking sprinters Tommie Smith and Charlie Greene, high school mile-run phenom Marty Liquori, hammer thrower Ed Burke and distance star Gerry Lindgren.

But Pan-Am coach Cornelius Warmerdam was satisfied that this may be the most represenative U.S. squad yet to engage in the American Hemisphere's traditional tune-up for the Olympic Games.

Besides the incomparable Randy Matson, world shot put record holder, Warmerdam, himself a pioneer in America's great pole vault lineage, has a pair of vaulters crowding the 18-foot barrier in Bob Seagren and Paul Wilson.

Also expected to dominate the two-day trials — starting Saturday with finals in seven men's and six women's events — are premiere high hurdler Willie Davenport and three holdover champions from the 1963 Pan-Am Games at Sao Paulo, Brazil. The three are Jim Grelle in the 1,500 meters, world-record long jumper Ralph Boston, and high jumper Gene Johnson, only military champion entered here.

In action Saturday will be Matson, whose winning shot put of 67-1½ in the recent U.S.-British Commonwealth meet was far under his world mark of 71-5½.

Also on tap Saturday are finals in the 100 meter sprint, in which National AAU champ Jim Hines is strongly favored; the 400 meter hurdles; hammer throw; javelin; 3,000 meter steeplechase, and long jump.

Barr To Coach At Leesville

LEESVILLE (Special) — Superintendent of Vernon Parish Schools, Curtis Bradshaw, announced today that Guy Barr Jr., former backfield coach and head track coach at Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, Wesson, Miss. has been named to the coaching staff at Leesville High School, which will have Charlie Edwards as athletic director and head football coach.

Barr, 25, will fill the same position at LHS as he did at Copiah-Lincoln.

A 1960 graduate of Magee, Miss., High School, Coach Barr attended Copiah-Lincoln and Delta State College at Cleveland, Miss.

Following graduation from Delta State, he was backfield coach at Hazlehurst, Miss., High School during the 1964-65 school year.

In 1965, the young Mississippian returned to Wesson as head football coach at the high school there.

A's May Shift To Milwaukee

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Sporting News reported Friday that Charles O. Finley is flirting with Milwaukee with the idea of moving his Kansas City Athletics baseball club there instead of Oakland, Calif, which has been widely rumored as a future home of the A's.

Finley promptly denied the story and sources in Kansas City said they would make every effort to keep Finley from moving the club anywhere.

"There is absolutely no truth whatever to Mr. Spink's story (in the Sporting News)," said Finley, a Chicago insurance man who has made at least two other fruitless efforts to move the franchise.

Dick Stern, president of a Kansas City Investment company, said:

"If Mr. Finley is interested in receiving an offer to buy the A's we are prepared to make him one. We're willing to make what we consider a fair offer for the club in line with what other baseball clubs have sold for."

And Dutton Brookfield, head of the Jackson County Sports Complex Authority, which has just been voted a $43 million bond issue to erect two stadiums in Kansas City, said he would take the issue directly to the American League if Finley continues to ignore his efforts to negotiate for a lease.

"We'll fight for baseball like it's never been fought for before," said Brookfield who also said there were Kansas City interests ready to buy the club.

In Milwaukee, John Doyne, the Milwaukee County executive, said no presentation had been made to him by Finley but added:

"I greet the news with enthusiasm."

The Sporting News story, written by editor and publisher C. C. Johnson Spink, was datelined Anaheim, Calif., the site of Tuesday's All-Star baseball game. He also reported Finley's efforts to move the club may fail because he reportedly has only five favorable votes from American League owners—two shy of the required seven.

Spink's story said Finley's interest faded in moving to Oakland because he learned the city did not have a television channel available for baseball.

Milwaukee was the only other city with a major league-sized park ready for occupancy—the Milwaukee County Stadium which seats 43,799 and has been kept in excellent condition since the National League Braves moved to Atlanta, the Sporting News story continued.

The paper said Finley has made a presentation to Doyne and offered to sell 49 per cent of the club's stock to Milwaukee interests. Finley has placed an $8 million price on the club. Milwaukee wanted it the other way around, with Finley the 49 per cent owner.

"Except for this important disagreement," the story said, "there was a meeting of minds on other details."

The story added that Finley would be given a lease in which he would pay no rental until attendance reached 900,000, the next year not until 750,000, and so on in a sliding scale.

The article said the Schlitz Brewing Co. of Milwaukee offered a reported $500,000 television contract.

Spink said Finley could count on support for the transfer from the California Angels, Chicago, Cleveland and Minnesota's Twins and that definite no votes would come from New York, Washington and Detroit, with the pivotal votes in Boston and Baltimore.

Reaction from one owner was quick and caustic.

Burger Chef To Enter Tourney

Burger Chef, member of the Monroe Recreation Department's City A League, will play in the Alexandria Invitational Softball Tournament today.

The team meets the winner of the England Air Force Base-Sulphur game at 3:30 p.m. on the England No. 1 diamond. Red Campbell will probably start for Burger Chef.

Seeded Players Win In Tennis Tourney

By F. L. CLARK
World Sports Writer

All the seeded players boomed through their matches in Friday's opening rounds of the third annual Monroe Invitational Tennis Tournament at the Northeast State College courts.

Today's competition will feature quarterfinal mens singles, semifinal matches in junior boys and boys singles and in junior girls and girls singles.

Doubles play begins this morning at 9 o'clock with 35 teams entered in the same five divisions.

Final matches in all divisions will begin Sunday at 1:00 p.m., with trophies going to winners and runnerups in each division.

Former Tulane ace Bill Hardcastle, the No. 1 mens seed, overwhelmed John Steele, 6-0, 6-0 in advancing to the quarters. No. 2 seeded Jes Stewart, McNeese's top netter, won handily over young Hughes Abell, 6-0, 6-2.

Richard Campbell, a standout four - year letterman in tennis at Northeast, proved his No. 3 seeding by blanking Sam Cook, 6-0, 6-0. The closest match involving a seeded player came when David Jones, No. 1 Tribe netter, outlasted Dale Vines, 6-4, 7-5. Jones is the No. 4 mens seed.

Defending champion Padg Bolton breezed past John Brooks in the junior boys division, 6-3, 6-1.

Teri Arthur, junior girls titleholder, brushed off Mary McKinney, 6-2, 7-5 in reaching the semis.

Karen Smith and Janie Edwards, two young Lake Charles lasses, strengthened their darkhorse ratings by posting victories in both junior girls and girls matches.

BoSox Romp Past Orioles

BOSTON (AP) — Home runs by Tony Conigliaro and Carl Yastrzemski led a 12-hit attack that powered the Boston Red Sox to an 11-5 romp over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

Conigliaro belted a two-run shot high over the left field screen for his 14th homer to open the scoring in the first inning. Yastrzmski his 20th into the right field seats in the sixth, keying a three-run rally that put the game out of reach.

Ed Mathews Slams 500th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ed Mathews of the Houston Astros hit the 500th home run of his career in the sixth inning of Friday night's game against the San Francisco Giants.

Mathews, who hit 493 homers in 14 seasons with the Braves in Boston, Milwaukee and Atlanta before being traded to Houston last winter, joined the elite 500 club with a three-run blast off San Francisco ace Juan Marichal.

He is the seventh player in major league history to reach the 500 homer mark. Babe Ruth's 714 lifetime total heads the all-time list, followed by Willie Mays with 555, Jimmy Foxx, 534, Ted Williams, 521, Mickey Mantle, 512, and Mel Ott, 511.

Mays, Mantle and Mathews are the only members of the club still active.

Mantle, the New York Yankees' veteran slugger, hit his 500th homer on May 25. San Fancisco's Mays went over the 500 barrier last season.

Jim Wynn and Rusty Staub were on base in the sixth when Mathews pounded Marichal's first pitch 390 feet over the right field fence at Candlestick Park, giving the Astros a 6-4 lead.

Tigers Take Setback, 3-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Casanova looped a two-out single to right in the eighth inning Friday night, driving in two runs and leading the Washington Senators to a 3-1 victory over Detroit.

Giles Gains Southern Golf Tie

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia champion Vinny Giles came charging from six strokes behind with a four-under-par 68 Friday and climbed into a tie with faltering Larry Hinson in the Southern Amateur Golf Tournament with a 54-hole score of 210.

On a day when rain and devilish pin placements made a monster of the 6,918-yard James River Course, Hinson went over par 72 for the first time in the tournament with a 74 — but only the bouncy, red-haired Giles could make him sorry.

Other golfers fired and fell back, but Giles sustained his momentum with tremendous putting, finally rolling home a five-footer for a birdie at the 18th green that propelled him into a tie with Hinson, the NCAA small college champion from Douglas, Ga.

Defending champion Hubert Green of Birmingham, Ala., who had begun the third round four strokes to the rear, shot 73 for 213 and picked up one stroke. Unheralded Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla., moved into fourth place with the day's second best round—a 70—for 215.

Altogether only seven golfers broke James River's par of 36-36 Friday against a total of 19 on the tournament's first two days.

Tied for fifth going into Saturday's final 18 holes are 17-year old Lanny Wadkins of Richmond and Ed Brantly of Signal Mountain, Tenn., both at 217. Brantly shot a one-under-par 71, Wadkins a 74 Friday.

Dire misfortune befell 1965 National Amateur champion Bob Murphy of Pensacola, Fla., as the chunky public relations man skied to a 76.

At 218, Murphy was tied with two-time Southern champion Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., who shot 74, and Lew Oehmig of Chattanooga, Tenn., who had 75.

Murphy was one over par and intent on making a run for the lead when he hit his tee shot out of bounds at the par five 16th hole and took a triple bogey eight.

No such calamity overtook Giles, a University of Virginia law school student from Lynchburg who three times has captured the Virginia men's title and in 1964 was Southern collegiate champ while playing for the University of Georgia.

The cheerful redhead had six birdies and used only 27 putts—only 12 on the last nine — in his scrambling round of 34-34. He had birdie putts of 25 and 3 feet on the front nine and 10, 6 and 5 feet on the back side, and chipped in from a ridge top 30 feet from the pin for a bird on the par four 10th hole.

Giles' only bogeys were at the 11th, where he three-putted for a five, and at the 13th, where he was trapped and took another five.

Hinson's impeccable game was nowhere nearly so consistent as in the fir. two rounds, when the tall Georgian shot 66-70. Hinson started his day with bogeys on the first two holes, missing the green both times, and also bogeyed the 17th after hitting into a trap.

His only birdie, a three, came when he sank a 10-foot putt at the 324-yard, 15th hole, but as it turned out, this lone birdie salvaged a tie for the lead.

Marty Fleckman was the first amateur golfer in 34 years to lead the U. S. Open field after three rounds. But on his fourth round he shot an 80 to tie for 18th place.

Downing, Peterson Team To Lead Yanks' Sweep Of Tribe

NEW YORK (AP) — Fritz Peterson blanked Cleveland 2-0 on four hits after Al Downing had fashioned a five-hit 2-1 conquest Friday night as the New York Yankees scored their first doubleheaders sweep of the season.

The Yanks had lost two and split nine twin bills before the two young lefties broke the drought with their sharp performances.

For Peterson, it was his second straight victory after losing his first eight. He struck out two, walked three and had only two scares, in the fourth and eighth.

In the fourth, singles by Rocky Colavito and Don Demeter, and an error put Indians on second and third, but he got Chico Salmon on a fly to end it.

In the eighth, a bunt single, a walk and a force play had runners on first and third, but Peterson got Joe Azcue to tap back to the mound for the third out.

The Yanks got their first run in the first inning on a walk to Dick Howser, a single by Joe Pepitone and Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. Their other run, in the third, came on a single by Pepitone and pop fly singles by Mantle and Steve Whitaker.

Downing struck out five and walked one in his first game effort, running his record to 10-5.

A fourth inning homer by Elston Howard broke a 1-1 tie.

Pepitone drove in the Yanks' first run, in the first, with a double, but the Indians matched it in the second on Azcue's double and a single by Rocky Colavito.

Judge Orders Unions To Show Cause In Baton Rouge Labor Dispute

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Dist. Judge E. Gordon West Friday ordered two disputing unions here to show cause July 18 why they should not be enjoined from further strike activity.

The judge acted at the request of a National Labor Relations Board official. NLRB attorneys filed an unfair labor practices suit against the local units of the teamsters and electricians union.

A jurisdictional dispute between electricians and teamsters has been cited as a factor in a two-month labor and management crisis that has thrown 15,000 men out of work and halted $250 million in industrial and other construction projects here.

Industries busy with construction projects in this area have locked out workers, blaming an electricians' walkout which resulted from the jurisdictional dispute between labor and management as Gov. John McKeithen prepared for a special session of the legislature starting Monday. The governor seeks a strong state agency to look into what he called racketeering and violence in labor and management relations.

The East Baton Rouge Parish grand jury also has been probing claims of bribery, shootings and bombings on the labor scene.

John F. Lebus, regional director, filed a 16-page petition in West's division of U.S. District Court seeking a sweeping injunction against both the electricians and the teamsters unions.

He asked Judge West to set a hearing date for the two unions to show cause why they should not be barred from striking, picketing, stopping work, or keeping workers from performing their jobs.

In New Orleans, headquarters of the 15th NLRB region, Lebus said Judge West set a hearing in his court in Baton Rouge for 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 18.

The regional director scheduled a hearing before a hearing officer of the NLRB July 24 in Baton Rouge where, LeBus said the teamsters and electricians union locals could present evidence to support their claims of the assignment of the work and "establish a basis on which the NLRB in Washington will determine the dispute."

LeBus designated Fallon W. Bentz, one of the principal attorneys on the 15th regional staff, as the NLRB examiner in Baton Rouge.

If Judge West grants the injunction, LeBus explained, it will be in effect pending a final determination of the dispute by the board in Washington.

It also would prevent work stoppages at Fluor, Fischbach, American, Johnson, Sachse, Fish, Saia and Foster electrical companies, or at facilities of members of the Electrical Association of Baton Rouge, Inc.

The World For WOMEN

MRS. HERBERT E. MUNHOLLAND JR., before her marriage on July 2 was Miss Susan Diana Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis B. Dunn of Monroe. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Munholland Sr., also of this city. The wedding was performed by Rev. Mongle in Central Baptist Church at 3 p.m. The couple will reside in Monroe.

Rehearsal Dinner, Luncheon Final Prenuptial Festivities

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Francis hosted a dinner party following the rehearsal of the wedding of their son, William Allen Francis, and Miss Virginia Derylin Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Z. Morris, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows last evening in Grace Episcopal Church, with The Rev. W. Bradley Trimble officiating.

A green cloth covered the dinner table and forming the central decoration were yellow and white summer flowers. The honoree was wearing a white lace A-line trousseau model designed with long sleeves and scoop neckline.

Other guests for the final prenuptial festivity were Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groseclose Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Francis, Miss Jane Francis, Miss Ann Borders, Mrs. R. W. Borders, Vance Stevens, James Culpepper, Miss Alana Cooke, the Rev. and Mrs. Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Mummert and Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Sare.

BRIDESMAID LUNCHEON

Roses varying in shades from pink to red predominated in the floral decorations for a luncheon honoring Miss Morris and the feminine bridal attendants earlier the same day.

Mrs. Carter Ackel assisted by hostesses, Mrs. W. J. Pierron Sr. and Mrs. Harold Davis, entertained in her home on K Street for the prenuptial event.

A bouquet of the roses centered the pink covered table. Those invited to lunch with the hostesses and honoree were Mrs. L. N. Blair, Miss Linda Blair, Mrs. Francis, Miss Jane Francis, Mrs. Robert Groseclose Jr., Mrs. R. W. Borders, Miss Anne Borders, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. M. E. Conlin and Mrs. W. L. Herron.

Miss Morris was wearing a light blue A-line model with a gift corsage of white and yello daisies. Mrs. Ackel chose a pink suit, Mrs. Davis, a red, white and blue linen sheath and Mrs. Pierron, a silk print dress.

The hostesses presented the bride-elect with silver in her chosen pattern.

BATTERY HINT

To keep motorboat batteries from corroding, check and clean them often. Then coat the connections, and the battery-leads near the terminals, with a little petroleum jelly. It protects against damage from water and salty air.

Quota Club Members Hear Reports On Recent International Convention

A brandy snifter holding a large blue candle encircled by shaded blue roses centered the officer's table for a meeting of Quota Club on Thursday.

Mrs. Mildred Lomax presided at the noon luncheon meeting. During the business session a six month leave of absence was extended to Mrs. Estelle Kirste. Correspondence was read from the Dallas Quota Club endorsing local member, Mrs. Toney Veazey for Governor of 21st District.

Mrs. Veazey was appointed chairman of the International Loan Committee to be assisted by Mrs. Sybil Christmas and Mrs. Olive Tomlinson.

Proposed projects were discussed by chairman, Mrs. Clara Davis, with a decision made by vote to sell nut crunch prior to and at the fall bazaar, an annual fund raising event.

The new project, party-line, was discussed, and parents of the local Quotarians will be invited to the patio party which will be an event at Mrs. Helen Agnew's on July 27. Other special guests will be included for this social affair, with Mrs. Agnew appointed to extend the invitations.

Mrs. Lomax, Mrs. Agnew and Mrs. Gladys Brownlee recently returned from the International Convention of Quota Clubs, which was held in Vancouver, B. I. Mrs. Lomax thanked the club for giving her the opportunity to be a representative at the convention. She gave the highlights of the event and told of the other courtesies extended while there. She reported 292 Quota Clubs now exist in United States, Canada, Australia and Mexico.

Mrs. Agnew reported on the convention's by - law changes, and Mrs. Brownlee is to report on the workshops she attended at the next business meeting.

A table held a display of materials pertaining to the convention, includuing picture postcards, name tags and various booklets for members to view after adjournment.

Mrs. Jack Pace, sister of Mrs. Mattie Layne Malone, was guest for the meeting. Members present were Mrs. Agnew, Mrs. Hilda Bodan, Mrs. Vance Bread, Mrs. Brownlee, Mrs. Merle Clarkston, Miss Bertha Cook, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Haneline, Mrs. Bess James, Miss Letha Johnson, Mrs. Harriet Kern, Mrs. Lomax, Mrs. Myrt Baudoin, Miss Mamie McNeill, Miss Jane Miller, Mrs. Pat Pattison, Mrs. Tomlinson, Mrs. Veazey, Mrs. Lessie Guidry, Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Ethel Mongol and Mrs. Bernice Baillie.

MRS. RONALD DOUGLAS CROWE

Fair Park Baptist Church Is Setting For Crowe--Voss Vows

English ivy and white roses decorated the church for the wedding of Miss Judith Ann Voss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Voss, West Monroe, and Ronald Douglas Crowe, son of Mrs. Don Wright, West Monroe and Glynn Crowe, Monroe. The Rev. Leland A. Landridge performed the double ring ceremony in Fair Park Baptist Church, West Monroe, at 7:30 in the evening, before an altar enhanced by arrangements of white gladioli.

Mr. Voss gave his daughter in marriage. She was wearing a gown of peau de soie designed with a lace bodice, scalloped neckline and bell sleeves. The high waist was appointed with a tiny self - material bow. The fingertip veil flowed from an identical bow. The chapel length train was attached at the back waistline. She carried a white Bible topped with white rosebuds.

Maid of honor, Miss Linda Sue Horsley, and Mrs. B. A. Liles, matron of honor, were dressed identically in street length dresses of powder blue crepe. Their headpieces were blue roses encircled with matching rose buds and tulle. They each carried a long stemmed white rose.

Don Wright served the bridegroom as best man, and Paul Douglas Liles was ring bearer. Billy Voss and Bobby A. Liles were ushers, and James L. Burns Jr., groomsman.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue crepe dress with matching accessories; the groom's mother, a dark blue lace dress with blue accessories. They both wore shaded blue corsages to highlight their wedding attire.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. A bridal motif predominated in the decorations. The bride's table was covered with Irish linen and held as the centerpiece a miniature bride surrounded by white roses. Cake and punch were served from the appointed table by Mrs. Ed Burns.

Miss Leigh Ann Burns assisted at the bride's book.

The couple will establish their home in West Monroe.

Jerry Lane Hollis Claims Bride In Litchfield, Illinois

Miss Mary Louise Zuber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris F. Zuber of Litchfield, Ill., and Jerry Lane Hollis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hollis, Litchfield, formerly of Bastrop, exchanged nuptial vows on July 1, in St. Aloysius Church in Litchfield.

The bride was graduated from Eastern Illinois University with a bachelor of science degree in Education. She is on the faculty of Octavia High School, Coltax, Ill.

Mr. Hollis received his bachelor of science degree in Business from Louisiana State University. He just returned from serving in Vietnam with the navy and is presently stationed in Davisville, R. I.

Hints From Heloise

Beach Attire Attractive If Bag And Towel Match

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Swimming time is here so this is an idea for a child's individual beach bag with matching towel . . .

Use a bright colored hand towel, fold it in half and sew the sides together.

Make punch holes around the open top with metal eyelets, four on each side. Stitch bias tape closed and insert it through the eyelets, forming a drawstring.

Knot the ends of the tape together so the drawstring won't come out.

Sew the child's initial on the front of the bag using bias tape of a contrasting color. Put a matching bath towel inside the beach bag and she is ready for a trip to the pool.

Mrs. D. E. S.

Dear Helooise:

In response to the complaint about guests rubbing their hands over lovely velvet upholstery:

We visited Windsor Castle in England. In the Queens apartments, there were lovely velvet and silk brocades lining the walls. Samples of the material were tacked beside the doorways for visitors to stroke . . . which WE ALL DID!

Following this idea, I suggest hemming small pieces of upholstery material and pinning them over the arms and backs. These can be stroked . . . and removed for dry cleaning.

They are unobstrusive and preserve the life of the original furniture covering.

Rachel Long

Dear Heloise:

Often we reconstitute orange juice in our electric blender and store it in the refrigerator in the blender glass, giving it a quick blend before pouring another glass of juice.

Sometimes the blender glass will have rings of orange pulp that are difficult to remove.

Running the blender with detergent and water in it won't remove the rings. So I add an abrasive . . . cracked ice. Half a dozen cracked ice cubes adds to the detergent solution is THE solution.

Bill

Derrl Heloise:

With the camping and vacation traveling season about here, I would like to pass on an idea I have found very helpful in packing the car.

There are always certain items we know we may need enroute and don't want to pack in suitcases. However, extra sweaters, small pillows for napping, favorite toys, etc., if left loose, can clutter the car terribly and get underfoot.

I put all these items in a plastic blanket storage bag. The side zipper is easily worked and items inside are quickly spotted through the plastic. All those loose articles are accessible, as well as staying cleaner and I find no one objects to the simple job of putting items back into the bag.

With loose articles in the closed bag, both loading and unloading the car is simplified.

CYNTHIA ANN WILLIAMS

Former Northeast Students To Wed

Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Williams of Springhill, announce their daughter, Cynthia Ann to Wendell Thomas (Skip) Wayland. He is the son of Mrs. Anne Wayland of Springhill and J.A. Wayland of Wadsworth, Kans.

Both Miss Williams and her fiance are graduates of Springhill high school and have attended Northeast Louisiana State College in Monroe.

The wedding will be solemnized at 7 p.m. on August 17 in the Methodist Church of Springhill.

DBS Annual Rush Features Many Social Activities

The annual rush season for Delta Beta Sigma Sorority is in full swing with many parties and activities planned by members for the rushees.

The chosen theme for rush is "DBS Visits Charlie Brown". The season was opened with a surprise breakfast in the home of Miss Linda Harwood on Orleans St., from 5 a.m. to 6:30 a.m.

Sunday morning the members and rushees attended the 11 a.m. services at St. Matthew's Catholic Church. That afternoon a mother-daughter tea was hosted in the home of Miss Karen Brubaker on Bayou Lane from 2 until 4 p.m. Carrying out the chosen theme, "A Toast To Peanuts" using miniature punch bowls as name tags prevailed in the decorations.

Tuesday, from 2 until 5 p.m. rushees were feted with an informal outing and swimming party. The setting for the fun party was the back lawn of the Moncla home on Raymond Drive, with Miss Susan Moncla as hostess.

"Snoopy versus the Red Baron" was the party theme with miniature airplanes as name tags and various sketches of Snoopy 'in action' against the Red Baron.

LENORN DAMPIER

Miss Dampier Engaged To Larry Whatley

An August 26 wedding is planned by Miss Lenora Dampier and Larry Whatley, students at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute., whose forthcoming marriage is announced by her parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Dampier of Jonesville. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Whatley of Ruston.

The ceremony will be performed by the bride's father, minister of Jonesville Methodist Church.

Miss Dampier is a graduate of Waterproof high school and is presently enrolled in the school of home economics at Tech, where she is a member of Louisiana Tech Blue Jackets and the Home Economics Club.

Her fiance was graduated from Winnfield high school and is enrolled in the school of mechanical engineering at Louisiana Tech. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Dear Abby

Trying To Beat Traffic Can Wreck Woman's Life

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a very nice-looking, well-to-do gentleman in this town whose wife is dying of cancer. No one knows how much longer she'll last, but she's in the hospital now, so the end is probably near.

This gentleman would make a fine husband, and I know that the minute his wife dies there will be a rush of widows and divorcees at his doorstep.

I would like to beat the traffic, but I don't know how to go about it without being obvious. Got any ideas? Would it be O.K. to invite him to my apartment for dinner some night? Or would it be more subtle to fix a nice hot meal and send it over to his house? Any advice you have on this subject would be appreciated. Keep my name and city confidential, please.

WIDE AWAKE WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Sorry, I can't help you "beat the traffic," but since you've asked for advice on the subject, quite scheming! You'd fool no one. Least of all the gentleman.

DEAR ABBY: I am a nurse. My boy friend is an X-ray technician. We date week-ends, but see each other daily at lunch during coffee breaks.

Until recently, we both smoked, and this is my source of trouble. My boy friend decided to quit smoking last month. He said it would be easier for him if we didn't meet for coffee breaks since the proximity to someone smoking might be more than he could withstand.

On our week-end date, I smoked a cigaret during a dance intermission. He didn't say anything, but he looked pained. When he said good night he acted cool, and his good night kiss was cooler.

Since then I learned that he's been dating some little student nurse who doesn't smoke! I am so mad I could burn.

I don't want to lose him. Any ideas?

STILL SMOKING

DEAR STILL: If you haven't already lost him, quit smoking, or that cigaret you're holding could become a torch.

DEAR ABBY: If a man is married to a woman who is "cold," or always "too tired" to satisfy her husband's physical needs, he gets a lot of sympathy. And if he should go elsewhere for what he's missing at home, no one blames him. But how about a woman. She can be love - starved for years, and if she so much as looks at another man, she's considered a tramp.

Well, I'm not a tramp, Abby. I'm a decent, normal woman who has been married for 16 years to a man who has given me a fine home, children, financial security, and companionship. But for the last 4 years his interest in sex has diminished to nothing.

We are both in our early forties, and I think we are much too young to consider the physical side of our marriage finished. Or am I wrong? I've tried everything to revive his interest in me, but it's hopeless. He refuses to discuss it, and he won't see a doctor. Meanwhile I'm left frustrated.

I've never been unfaithful in my life, altho I have had chances. I am attractive, look younger than my years, and lately I have been wondering if perhaps an affair on the side would save my husband's face, and our marriage? Or am I rationalizing? Woman to woman, what do you think?

ONLY HUMAN.

DEAR ONLY: Woman to woman, I think you ought to tell your husband that if he values his marriage he had better see a doctor for a thoro check-up. He could have a physical disorder which he ought to know about.

If it's not "physical," that's still another problem; but it's not normal for a man his age to have lost all interest in sex. Let him know you love him, but have serious doubts about how much longer you can remain faithful. Leave the rest to him.

Troubled? Write to Abby, c-o News-Star. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hartford Officials Meet To Curb City Violence

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — City officials and Negro leaders, meeting after a second straight night of violence in the predominantly Negro North End of the city, said Friday that race was not a major factor in the outbreaks.

"It's not a black and white issue," said Connecticut's first Negro member of the State Senate, Boce Barlow. He said the violence involving 200 to 300 young men and teen-agers appeared to be directed at one store, where the first fire-bombing and rock-throwing occurred Wednesday night.

Mayor George Kinsella, who earlier declared a state of emergency, issued a statement at a special City Council session urging North End parents to keep their youngsters at home. He described the state of emergency as a technical move under the city's charter to allow him to take steps necessary to protect lives and property in the area.

City Manager Elisha C. Freeman told the meeting that the first job of the city is to apprehend the persons responsible for the disturbances and "make this city a safe place once again."

There were nine arrests Thursday night, mostly in a two-block area where the violence was centered for two nights. All were charged with breach of the peace or resisting arrest.

Eleven policemen were injured Thursday night, Police Chief John Kerrigan reported to the council. Most of them were hit by thrown objects or flying glass.

Believed the most seriously hurt was a motorcycle patrolman, Edward Lachmayer, whose left ear was cut by a bottle.

"I saw it coming but I couldn't duck in time," he reported when he went back on duty in the troubled area after hospital treatment. One police cruiser struck by bottles and rocks lost three windows and a headlight.

Negro leaders blamed "outsiders" for the second night of violence near the corner of Wooster and Pavilion streets. The Negro leaders said both outbreaks were motivitated primarily by ill-feeling toward local merchants — both white and black.

The first violence Wednesday night occurred at Battle's Luncheonette, when police arrested a Negro on a charge of breach of the peace. The Negro owner of the luncheonette told police that the arrested man had used foul language in front of a waitress.

Friends of the arrested man claimed he was treated roughly by a Negro policemen. Then rocks and bottles began flying and some fire bombs were thrown. Three windows at the luncheonette were broken.

Marshall Refuses Again To Give Views On Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thurgood Marshall refused again Friday to give his over-all opinion of Supreme Court rulings on confessions but expressed belief such decisions have not increased crime.

Testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee on his nomination to the Supreme Court, the U.S. solicitor general said: "I don't believe any of the court decisions have by the decisions themselves increased crime."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., led critical questioning of Marshall, a former federal appellate judge and the first Negro named to the Supreme Court.

Ervin insisted that the nominee give his interpretation of the Constitution's Fifth Amendment which protects against self-incrimination.

Marshall told him, "any statement I made construing the Fifth Amendment would require me to disqualify myself" from cases touching on this subject.

This brought this evaluation from Ervin: "If you don't have any opinion on what the Constitution means, you ought not to be confirmed."

In the opening hearing Thursday, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., sought unsuccessfully to draw from Marshall an opinion on the Supreme Court rulings that suspects in crime are entitled to counsel from the time of arrest. The appointee declined, saying any such evaluation would be improper because of pending cases before the high court.

At the next committee sessions, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., is expected to question Marshall critical on his civil rights views.

Before his appointment to the U.S. Court of Appeals, Marshall was counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and directed the case leading to the historic 1954 decision outlawing segregation in public schools.

Despite opposition from Southern committeemen, most of the Judiciary members already have indicated approval of Marshall's appointment and the panel is expected to request Senate confirmation.

After giving his views on the effect of confession rulings on crime, Marshall added, "I know of no case that prevents a man from walking into a police station and admitting he committed a crime."

After Ervin completed his examination of the nominee, Sen. James O. Eastland, the Mississippi Democrat who is chairman of the committee, recessed the hearings until Tuesday.

Solution To Pressing Problems

Mayor Hatten Urges Bond

Two of West Monroe's most pressing problems — inadequate water reserves and pollution of the Ouachita River with sewage — can be solved if property owners approve a $2,033,600 bond issue that will be proposed "most likely in September."

Mayor W. B. (Bert) Hatten and Chairman H. H. (Tige) Millins of West Monroe's 38-member Citizen's Advisory Committee announced "full approval" of the improvements Friday.

They spoke after the committee gave "unanimous and enthusiastic" endorsement.

Hatten's breakdown of the proposals, given the committee "in detail" late Thursday, listed $795,000 in tax bonds and approximately $1.3 million in revenue bonds to be retired through water department earnings.

The total in bonds, Hatten said, will be repaid "with no net increase in the present millage structure and with additional water rates which would average only about $1.85 per month per customer."

In total cost, the program includes approximately $1.2 million for a sewage oxidation pond and related systems, of which more than $300,000 would come from federal pollution control grants. The city's share is tagged at $921,600, including all construction, engineering and legal contingencies.

West Monroe has been under heavy state and federal pressure to end the dumping of raw sewage into the Ouachita River. The city owns a 155 - acre site near Olinkraft for the location of the pond, purchased two years ago, and will purchase an additional 55 acres.

The water department expansion envisioned includes two new 500 - gallon - per - minute water wells, a pumping station, an additional 1.5 million gallon storage capacity, a 12 - inch main, a 10 - inch main, and an eight - inch main, all estimated to cost $1.1 million. No federal participation is involved.

Hatten stressed the planned absence of new taxes. "Retiring bond issues will release sufficient millage to meet the new obligation without having to add any new millage," he said.

"Water rate adjustments will be drafted so as to provide that retired or fixed income people would not necessarily realize a $1.85 increase, but all water customers would realize some increase, and the average increase throughout the city would be $1.85."

Attending the explanatory meeting with city officials and the citizens' advisory committee were Sydney Zeid, of engineering consultants Albert Switzer and Associates of Baton Rouge; and William Beck, bond attorney with Foley, Judell and Morel of New Orleans.

Mullins was elected first chairman of the recently-formed group.

"We did not expect such an overwhelming endorsement as we received from these community leaders," Hatten said Friday.

As to the election, he said it will be set "as soon as new water rate schedules can be finalized and the mechanics of the election call are completed." He estimated it would be in September.

In sewage disposal, Hatten said the Board of Aldermen voted for an oxidation pond over a plant due to "lower initial cost and lower cost of operation." The bond issue prospectus listed total costs of sewage improvement, using a pond, at $921,600, compared to $1,198,000 using a plant.

A pond is expected to cost $18,500 a year to operate, compared to $48,500 to operate a plant.

FABULOUS LAWN BOY SPECIAL

compare at 109.95! "LAWN-BOY" with grass catcher!
cuts big 21" swath!
one-pull starting!

COMPLETE PARTS AVAILABILITY

HARD TO BELIEVE but it's true–a 1967 Lawn Boy 21 inch power mower sale priced at well below $100! And with the famed OMC engine made by the makers of the Johnson outboard motors. How can you possibly beat that? Lawn Boy's reputation is such that we don't have to tell folks how good the Lawn Boy is–they tell us! Look what you get–a grass catcher . . . powerful 4 h.p. motor . . . oversize muffler for extra quiet operation. Smooth rolling wheels, staggered for mowing uneven terrain without scalping, wide tread puncture proof tires . . . one pull recoil starter . . . cutting height feature adjustable to 6 positions, from 1" to 3", with quick wheel height levers.

See Us or the Lawn Boy dealer nearest you!

SAFETY ENGINEERED

They Came . . . They Saw . . .

THEY BOUGHT!

Last Friday we had 123 lots . . . Only 69 left!

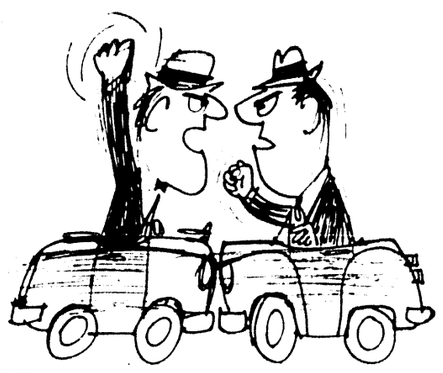
. . . Why? . . .

As one buyer (who bought 4 lots) said, "I grew up in Ouachita Parish and I'm moving back. I've been all over the U. S. and I know what's happening to land prices, 'specially after it's been developed with paved streets, electricity, gas and telephone service. Anybody around here who wants a beautiful homesite to build on and doesn't buy in Glen Acres right now is so dad-gummed close to the forest he can't see the trees!"

Tired Of Fighting The City Rush?

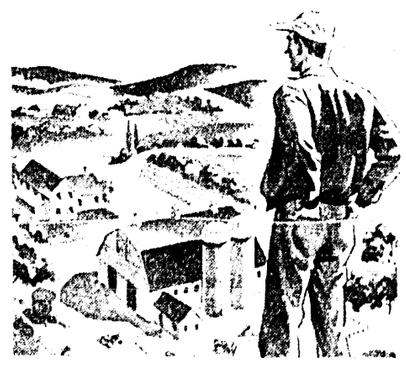


TIRED . . . of the grime and grind of crowded, noisy surroundings . . . of steaming hot car- and truck-filled streets for your kids to grow up on . . . of paying rent . . . fighting neighbors keeping you up all night?

THEN . . .

. . . Wake Up and Live, Brother!

Here's Your Chance To Have Your Own "Green Acres" In Glen Acres



It's easy to have your own 'Private Kingdom" . . . where the only noise is the quiet peaceful "conversation" of the birds . . . and the baying of the coondogs in the distance. The air is pure and you have room to breathe.

CONVENIENT LOCATION

Just 8 minutes from 7th and Arkansas in West Monroe . . . in a rolling tree-covered area, lush with hardwood and pine trees. Only 10 minutes from D'Arbonne Lake.

HUGE LOTS

Ranging in size from ½ to over 1 acre each, at prices so low you can buy more than one. Fence out the world, if that's what you want. Or, if you prefer chickens, horses, cows, lions, zebras or spotted apes for your kids to grow up with, that's nobody's business but yours!

FULLY DEVELOPED

All lots have electricity, gas, telephone, paved streets, school bus service at your door-step. No building restrictions!

CUT FOOD COSTS

Grow your own! On soil so rich it'll grow anything from peanuts to prime T-bone steaks.

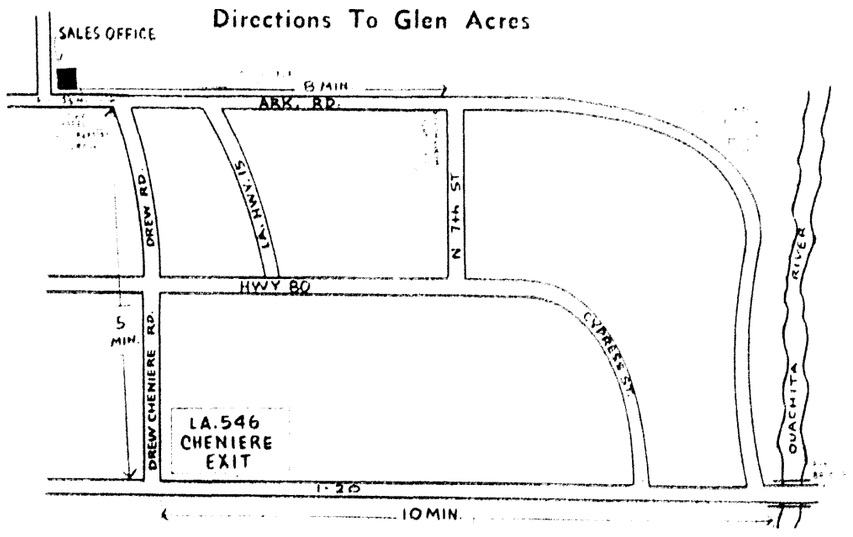
LOW TAXES

No special assessments or city taxes.

LOW DOWN PAYMENT

Tired of arguing with landlords? Only $ down and less than $ per month for 3 years will make you your own landlord of your own "Green Acres." Or, WE WILL TAKE LESS for cash!

Directions To Glen Acres



LAMESA DEVELOPMENT CORP.
Phone 396-2633 or 387-4440

A WORD OF ADVICE

If you are looking for land, flat as a billiard table, without trees, WE DON'T HAVE IT. If you want tree-covered land with deep, fertile soil, and many areas where you can have you own private fishing lake . . . WE HAVE IT!

Be sure to stop at the Sales Office and get a plot map so you can tell which lots are still available.

ADDED ATTRACTION

Our Sales Office is located at the entrance to Glen Acres in America's finest travel trailer, the SHASTA Tandem Deluxe, distributed exclusively in this area by CARTERS, INC. A Shasta representative will be on hand to demonstrate America's most luxurious travel trailer.

Police Hold Three Youths In Burglaries

Monroe police Friday arrested two Monroe youths and a juvenille in connection with a series of burglaries, the latest being a break-in on the Town House Lounge on DeSiard Street early Friday morning.

Officers said Johnny Lee Bradford, 18, 107 N. 14th St., and George Andrew Padeo, 19, 118 DeSiard Ave., were the two youths charged in the incident.

Officers said the two men and a juvenile were being held in connection with the burglary of the lounge, a cleaners, and a service station.

In other action police charged Billy Glenn Collins, 20, of Rt. 1, Box 5, Zwolle, with simple theft.

Earlier, Monroe police charged two city jail trustees with simple escape following their leaving a work detail Thursday.

The escapees, James Ray Williams, 17, 2109 Oak St., and Charles Henry Freeman, 17, of 4011 Kirby St., were returned to Monroe officials Friday by the Richland Parish Sheriff's Department.

In West Monroe officers charged Briceland Windham, 52, of Rt. 1, Box 217, West Monroe, with driving while intoxicated. Driving while intoxicated charges and reckless driving charges were levied against Johnny M. Chavers, 19, of Rt. 1, Box 227-A Oak Grove.

Also charged with driving while intoxicated was Mack A. Trichell 25, 707 S. 6th St., West Monroe.

Late Friday Monroe police charged William Pugh Graham Jr., 23, of 500 East Carlton St., with theft and carrying a concealed weapon.

Judie D. Frazier, 56, of 309 Cason St., was also charged with theft.

Shoplifting charges were levied against Gerald G. Benish, 20, of Vidalia.

Following this arrest at the Morgan and Lindsay Store on DeSiard Street Michael Lane Landers, 19, of Natchez, Miss. was charged with attempted theft.

In West Monroe officers levied theft, aggravated assault and disturbing the peace charges against Tony Hunter, 17, of 1732 Short Flynn St.
